VOICES OF THE DAY.

ELI PERKINS'S NOTES.

UNIVERSITY DAY.

The first day of the next academic year.

The university is a place where knowledge is sought and gained. It is a place where individuals come together to share ideas and learn from one another. It is a place where students are challenged to think critically and creatively. The university is a place where innovation and discovery are encouraged.

ELEANOR WADSWORTH'S LETTER.

Dear friend,

I hope this letter finds you well. I have been thinking a lot about our recent conversation and wanted to follow up on a few points.

Firstly, I wanted to apologize for any inconvenience my actions may have caused. I understand that I may have been insensitive in certain situations and I am working on being more mindful.

Secondly, I wanted to express my appreciation for the support and encouragement you have given me. Your guidance has been invaluable and I am grateful for your presence in my life.

Lastly, I wanted to discuss a matter of personal significance. I have been contemplating a decision that I believe will have a significant impact on our relationship. I hope you can understand my position and support me in this decision.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter. I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

ELEANOR

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 17.-The House of Representatives, on the report of the Committee on Freedmen's Bureau, recommences its consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau Act of 1866. The bill was passed by the Senate and reported by the Committee on Education. The bill provides for the establishment of a bureau to administer the affairs of the freedmen in the Southern States. The bureau is to be composed of a commissioner and two assistants. The commissioner is to be appointed by the President, and the assistants are to be appointed by the commissioner. The bureau is to have the power to make rules and regulations for the administration of the affairs of the freedmen.

NEWSPAPER CLIPPING.

NEWSPAPER CLIPPING.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 17.-The Senate, on the report of the Committee on Education, commences its consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau Act of 1866. The bill was passed by the House of Representatives and reported by the Committee on Freedmen's Bureau. The bill provides for the establishment of a bureau to administer the affairs of the freedmen in the Southern States. The bureau is to be composed of a commissioner and two assistants. The commissioner is to be appointed by the President, and the assistants are to be appointed by the commissioner. The bureau is to have the power to make rules and regulations for the administration of the affairs of the freedmen.

CABLE FLASHES.

CABLE FLASHES.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Senate, on the report of the Committee on Education, commences its consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau Act of 1866. The bill was passed by the House of Representatives and reported by the Committee on Freedmen's Bureau. The bill provides for the establishment of a bureau to administer the affairs of the freedmen in the Southern States. The bureau is to be composed of a commissioner and two assistants. The commissioner is to be appointed by the President, and the assistants are to be appointed by the commissioner. The bureau is to have the power to make rules and regulations for the administration of the affairs of the freedmen.

THE STORM OF THE PEARL.

THE STORM OF THE PEARL.

CABLE FLASHES.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Senate, on the report of the Committee on Education, commences its consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau Act of 1866. The bill was passed by the House of Representatives and reported by the Committee on Freedmen's Bureau. The bill provides for the establishment of a bureau to administer the affairs of the freedmen in the Southern States. The bureau is to be composed of a commissioner and two assistants. The commissioner is to be appointed by the President, and the assistants are to be appointed by the commissioner. The bureau is to have the power to make rules and regulations for the administration of the affairs of the freedmen.

ALABAMA.

ALABAMA.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Senate, on the report of the Committee on Education, commences its consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau Act of 1866. The bill was passed by the House of Representatives and reported by the Committee on Freedmen's Bureau. The bill provides for the establishment of a bureau to administer the affairs of the freedmen in the Southern States. The bureau is to be composed of a commissioner and two assistants. The commissioner is to be appointed by the President, and the assistants are to be appointed by the commissioner. The bureau is to have the power to make rules and regulations for the administration of the affairs of the freedmen.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The Senate, on the report of the Committee on Education, commences its consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau Act of 1866. The bill was passed by the House of Representatives and reported by the Committee on Freedmen's Bureau. The bill provides for the establishment of a bureau to administer the affairs of the freedmen in the Southern States. The bureau is to be composed of a commissioner and two assistants. The commissioner is to be appointed by the President, and the assistants are to be appointed by the commissioner. The bureau is to have the power to make rules and regulations for the administration of the affairs of the freedmen.
VOICES OF THE DAY.

ELI PERIDIES' NOTE.

JANUARY 4TH.

WEDNESDAY.

THE PAPER SAID.

My friend, the editor, has just given me the idea of writing a letter to the editor of a certain paper, which he has just received. It is a very good one, and I think it shows that he is doing very well in the way of getting ideas from others.

The letter is as follows:—

"My dear Sir,—I am writing to you because I wanted to know what you thought of my idea. I have been thinking about it for some time, and I think it is a good one. I hope you will be able to give me some information on the subject.

Yours truly,

E. P."