

The Cuban Insurrection.

HAVANA, March 10.

A steam transport has arrived from Barcelona with 1100 Spanish troops.

There is great military activity in the Central and Eastern Departments. Skirmishes between the troops and rebels are reported in various quarters of the the island, but no serious engagement seems to have taken place.

Sugar quiet—No. 12, 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ @9 reals.

The insurgents in the neighborhood of Sagua number 1500, and are under command of an American named Rudolph Pale, formerly in the Confederate service, and lately a clerk in a mercantile house.

Advices from the interior represent that troops are advancing against the rebels in every direction. The Government officers are working hard to reestablish communications between Nuovitas and Puerto Principe.

Skirmishes have taken place at Bacao, near Nuovitas, and near Polriorilo. Two fights in 48 hours are reported, in one of which, according to the Government account, 175 insurgents were killed. No reports of these engagements have been received from the Cuban side.

Forty rebel prisoners have arrived here from Remedios.

The rebels who were defeated at Mayari are moving towards Holquin.

The Diario says the wealthy planters and merchants are dissatisfied with the abolition of the proclamation issued by insurgents in Central Department.