The Trouble at Sing Sing—Cuban Independence—Arrival of a Minister from the Provisional Government. The Arctic Expedition—Nitro Glycerine, &c.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BOSTON HERALD.
NEW YORK, March 19.

It is generally believed here that the insurrection in Sing Sing prison yesterday was brought about by the Allen gang, of this city, in order to secure the release of Wes. Allen, who was last week sent there for burglary.

Several capitalists and dealers in arms and ammunition have held interviews with Senor Lemus, the Minister from the Cuban provincial government. A leading general in the late war, who is well known in New England, has been closeted with the Minister to-day. A strong movement is being made here with a view to secure from our Government the recognition of belligerent rights to the Cuban patriots. As soon as these rights are recognized there are large numbers of merchants who will commence to aid the revolutionists with men and material of war.

The route proposed for the new Arctic expedition is via Spitzbergen or by Bering's Straits.

NEW YORK, March 19. Weather clear and cold.

The steamship Kangaroo, from Liverpool, has arrived.

A small boat having 12 boxes of nitro glycerine was discovered under a pier at the foot of Whitehall street yesterday—enough, it is said, to blow the lower portion of this city and Brooklyn into atoms. The stuff was taken beyond the city lines by the Harbor police.

The Late James T. Brady—An Overflowing Prison—Aid for Cuba—News from Havana—The Case of Emilio Cobada—Our West India Squadron, &c., &c.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BOSTON HERALD.
NEW YORK, March 19.

The Law Institute of this city have ordered a marble bust of James T. Brady.

The Court of Pardons at Trenton has been compelled to discharge a number of persons from the State Prison, because of the overcrowded condition of that institution.

The steamer Burden, which sailed from Jacksonville with a cargo of arms and a hundred volunteers for Cuba, put into one of the Bahama Islands to repair machinery. Her cargo was put on board two schooners which sailed for Cuba. One of them succeeded in safely reaching her destination, but the other was captured by a Spanish frigate.

An Havana letter states that the American consul here has answered Mr. Seward's demand for information about the naturalized American citizen, Emilio Cobada, made in compliance with a resolution passed by Congress. The answer, through no fault of the consul, must prove very unsatisfactory. Senor Cobada is in Spain, whither he was sent by the Cuban authorities, and precise and full information as to his case can only be obtained there.

Captain General Dulce has declared the office of one of the officers of the City Council of Havana vacant, because he is among the emigrants to the United States, having gone without a leave of absence. He announces his determination to also declare vacant the positions of all men who have emigrated or who are accused of disloyalty, and fail to meet the charges in person.

Senor J. Ryquemle, a wealthy merchant of Havana, has been arrested and imprisoned for remarks he made a few days ago at a hotel in Key West. Cubans and their sympathizers in the United States proposing to return to ports of Cuba in possession of the Spaniards, should be very careful how they express themselves in public. Spanish spies abound in several American cities and towns.

The U. S. steamer Narragansett arrived at Havana on the 8th, making four vessels now at the immediate disposal of Admiral Hoff.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Late Intelligence from Cuba.

GENERAL SUCCESS OF THE REVOLUTION.

The Determination of the Cubans to be Free.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BOSTON HERALD.
WASHINGTON, March 19.

The Baltimore Sun of this morning says that the steamship Liberty, which arrived from Havana yesterday, leaving there on the afternoon of the 12th, brings some intelligence from Cuba which indicates a different state of things from that which is generally authorized to be sent by cable. It is stated that, in spite of the continued assurance of the Spanish officials that the government troops are gaining every battle fought with the insurgents, the facts do not bear out that view. In nearly every case of collision that has occurred between the insurgents and the government troops the former have had the advantage. Our informant states that every Cuban by birth is determined to get rid of the yoke of the Government, and those who are too old to assist actively in the struggle in the field are contributing a great portion of their wealth in aid of the rebellion. The hatred of the Cubans against the Spanish is intense, caused by the policy hitherto pursued by the Government towards themselves.

The Liberty brought but comparatively few passengers on this trip, whereas the steamship Cuba, on her arrival, brought over one hundred. There has been no positive prohibition to the natives leaving the island, but an application for a passport is often the signal for an arrest on suspicion and imprisonment, so that but few can get away.
