

CABAN AFFAIRS.

New York, June 3.

Washington letters from Cuba, received here this morning, state that the forces under General Jordan succeeded in joining the Cuban forces, after several fights, in which the Spaniards were repulsed with serious losses. The losses of Jordan were slight—only forty-five killed and wounded. He saved his artillery, arms and ammunition. He had with him 1,700 new rifles.

General Pelaz, whose life was threatened by volunteers, went to Cienfuegos, but the volunteers there refused to allow him to land. He was compelled to return to Havana. On his arrival here, the volunteers demanded his life, because he had sold his country, asserting that he had received one hundred and twenty thousand dollars to allow some rebels to escape.

Marcisse Escosura, chief of the administration, and Senor Diarro, secretary of Capt. General Dulce, succeeded in compromising the affair with the volunteers, and further outrages were prevented.

Yesterday evening the volunteers, greatly excited, assembled before the Capt. General's palace and shouted "Death to Dulce!" "Death to Pelaz!"

This morning a commission from the volunteers entered the palace and demanded Gen. Dulce's immediate resignation, declaring that he was allied with traitors. The resignation of the Captain General was soon afterwards announced. No act of violence was committed.

The volunteers now have full control, and are really the governing power of the island.

Several Lieutenant-Governors and civil officers of high rank, accused of conniving with rebels, are to be immediately relieved of their offices.

The insurgents, in several recent encounters, have gained slight advantages over the troops.

HAVANA, June 3.

The volunteers in Matanzas, following the example of those in Havana, assembled before the Government Palace there and demanded the immediate resignation of the Governor of Matanzas. Their demand was acceded to. Colonel Leon is now acting Governor. No outrages were committed, and at last accounts order was maintained.

The city of Havana remains exceedingly quiet, but public anxiety is intense.

A special steamer has been ordered to be in readiness to convey General Dulce to Spain, and it is expected that he will depart within a day or two.

NEW YORK, June 3.

A special to the HERALD, dated Havana, June 2, via Key West, June 3, says: "A revolution has broken out here, and the revolutionists have compelled Gen. Dulce to surrender the captain generalship to General Espinar, until the arrival of General Roda. General Pelaz is accused of receiving $70,000 from the insurgents. He started for Cienfuegos, but the volunteers there became riotous and would not permit him to land. He returned on Monday to Havana, and the volunteers, advised of his return surrounded the Telegrafo Hotel, with tin horns, etc., and demanded his surrender. The proprietor of the hotel assured them that he was not there, and opened his doors and allowed them to search the house. The crowd then went to the Government Palace and entered, unopposed by the guard, and made the same demand of General Dulce, but Dulce indignantly told them to search everywhere.

Yesterday the officers and men stationed here determined to demand the abdication of the Captain General. The streets were filled with a riotous crowd during the whole of the night, and a mob assembled at the Plaza de Armas and and shouted "Death to Dulce."

A commission, consisting of a Colonel and a soldier from each battalion, this morning had an interview with Governor Dulce, and demanded his immediate relinquishment of the command of the island. Dulce asked that time be allowed him to receive a reply to his telegram for instructions from Madrid. His request was refused, and at nine o'clock he surrendered the office. The volunteers then dispersed.

Matters will probably remain quiet until De Roda's arrival from Spain, although Espinar is powerless against the volunteers.

It is thought that Pelaz has gone to Key West.

Advices from Santiago to Thursday last are that the filibusters who recently landed at the Bay of Nipe had escaped to the interior, leaving behind them some material of war, including guns, for want of transportation.

The government accounts of the affair at the Bay of Nipe are much exaggerated, and the landing of filibusters causes a depression in business. The Spaniards are uncertain of the future.

HAVANA, June 3.

The steamer Montenuola is reported as having sighted a schooner, which had landed munitions of war on the island adjacent to the Bay of Nipe, just as she was leaving.

A fight took place at Villa Clara between 1,200 insurgents and a company of troops.
