

CUBA.

Captain-General Dulce and the Insurgents—A Proclamation of Amnesty.

HAVANA, Friday, Jan. 8.

The proclamation of Captain-General DULCE is favorably received by the majority of the people, but is disliked by the extremists of both Spanish and Cuban parties. It is rumored that an interview will soon take place between Gen. DULCE and prominent revolutionists in Havana. Should the meeting be successful, it would tend materially to the restoration of peace on the island. News has been received here from Nassau that a schooner recently arrived there from Cuba, after successfully landing fifty recruits and 2,000 muskets for the insurgents. Many reports of engagements between the troops and the rebels in the interior are circulating here, but none of them have yet received confirmation.

The correspondent of the NEW-YORK TIMES at Bayamo says the revolutionary chiefs have concluded to issue a proclamation making all slaves free, and fixing a day after which they shall receive pay for their labor, and they propose to carry this resolution into immediate effect.

HAVANA, Friday, Jan. 8—Evening.

The Gaceta will publish to-morrow a proclamation by the Captain-General, granting a general and absolute amnesty of all political offences, pardoning all persons, whether now confined in prison, or in hiding, or absent from the country.

Gen. DULCE will issue another proclamation to-morrow, dissolving the military commissions, and restoring full jurisdiction to the civil courts. In a few days Gen. DULCE will promulgate the law establishing the liberty of the Press. The public prints will be permitted to discuss, without the intervention of the censorship, all questions except those relating to slavery and the dogmas of the Catholic religion.
