OFF FOR CUBA.
Departure of a Patriot Expedition Last Night Comprising 800 Men.

COLONEL RYAN IN COMMAND.

The "First New York Regiment" of Colonists Volunteers off for the Field.

Last night was an auspicious night for hundreds of them. The most enthusiastic patriots expressed their joy at the news. The entire expedition was composed of volunteers. A reorganization and general improvement of the force had been decided upon. The expedition will stop at Key West for a week, where the stores and arms are being collected. Officers and men are now on board the vessels, and the departure is expected in a few days. The armament consists of several hundred muskets and a number of rifles. The arms are in perfect condition, and the expedition is well armed and well equipped. The vessels are well manned and well provided with stores. The officers are all volunteers, and the enlisted men are chosen for their courage and patriotism. The expedition is under the command of Colonel Ryan, who has been chosen for his ability and experience. The departure is expected in a few days, and the expedition is expected to arrive at its destination in a short time. The volunteers are all volunteers, and the enlisted men are chosen for their courage and patriotism. The expedition is under the command of Colonel Ryan, who has been chosen for his ability and experience. The departure is expected in a few days, and the expedition is expected to arrive at its destination in a short time.