

ENGLAND.

An English Opinion of the Relations Between Spain, Cuba, and the United States.

LONDON, August 24, 1863.

The Morning Telegraph (liberal) in an editorial to-day, says:—

"If Cuba severed her connection with Spain, it would only be to form a new bond with the United States. England could feel no jealousy at an aggrandizement which would complete the abolition of slavery as an institution." The loss of Cuba to Spain would be an unquestionable gain to the mother country, the colony and the cause of mankind."
