Valmaseda's Report About the Insurgents—
Seward's Movements—More of the Gunboats Expected.

HAVANA, Jan. 25, 1870.

Count Valmaseda, in a letter to the Captain General, reports that the jurisdictions of Bayamo, Jiquani and Manzanillo are tranquil, and that Guantanamo, Baracoa and Santiago are free of insurgents. The Count was about to leave Santiago for Las Tunas, to assume command of the troops in that quarter.

The steamship Eagle, which arrived here this morning, brought the crew of the brig General Marshall, from Boston, which was lost at sea.

Mr. William H. Seward has gone to visit the plantation of Colonel Zulueta, of the volunteers.

The second batch of Spanish gunboats, which were built in New York and lately sailed for Cuba, have been seen on the coast of Florida. Their arrival at this port is expected to-morrow.
