Gojencro Agota on the War Path—Pachio Preparing to Make Another Move.

HAVANA, Feb. 11, 1870.

Late intelligence received from Puerto Principe is to the effect that General Gojencro, with a strong division, left that city on the 5th inst. to commence a campaign against the insurgents. It was expected that General Pachio would soon leave that city to again attack the rebel forces.

Another Murder in Havana—Subscriptions for the Greenwaldth Family—The Sugar Market.

HAVANA, Feb. 11, 1870.

Felipe Yanes was murdered here on Saturday night. A political complexion was at first given to the deed, but it has since been proven that the murderer was actuated by motives of private revenge.

Subscriptions for the family of Greenwaldth are coming in freely. The Captain General has subscribed $100.

The recent agreement of the merchants to fix the rate of sugar at fifteen per cent is dissolved. The firms of Moller & Sons and Vanasche & Co. announce that they will hereafter buy sugar without tare, paying therefor accordingly.
