

CUBA.

Hopeful Spanish Reports.

HAVANA, May 22, 1870.

The Captain General telegraphs that the combined operations of the columns of Chinchillas, Fijardo and Montani have produced excellent results. Seventy-six rebels, including eight chiefs and two citizens of the United States, have been killed, and twenty-two taken prisoners. The rebel Colonel Bembeta's equipage and correspondence have been captured. Colonel Chinchilla, who is a nephew of Regent Serrano, was severely wounded. Colonel Berget reports that his detachment has killed twenty-five insurgents.

Newspaper Change—Loss of a Spanish Steamer.

HAVANA, May 22, 1870.

The publication of the Prensa is discontinued, that journal having been merged into the Voz de Cuba. Señor Gelphi, editor of the Prensa, becomes managing editor of the Voz de Cuba.

The Spanish steamer Fanelli Spiritus, while on her first trip after receiving new boilers, was lost on Cayo Piedras. All the officers and crew were saved.
