

CUBA.

The Jurisdiction of Sancti Spiritu Invaded by Insurgents—Capture of a Wrecking Schooner.

HAVANA, June 20, 1870.

The Diario states that the insurgent Bombeta, with a force of 600 cavalry, had invaded the jurisdiction of Sancti Spiritu for the purpose of inciting the people of the western departments to rebel against the Spanish authorities. Finding the houses deserted and the people flying from the insurgents, his forces became demoralized. Cholera broke out among Bombeta's troops and he was compelled to return to the Puerto Principe region. Columns of Spanish troops have been sent against Bombeta from different points and are now pursuing him. No engagement has yet taken place. Bombeta utterly failed to obtain the assistance of the country people.

The Spanish gunboat Crillo captured the English wrecking sloop John Grey, from Nassau, on Cayo Moro. The captain and crew were negroes and the sloop was without papers.