The Papers of
CALEB CUSHING

The papers of Caleb Cushing (1800-1879), lawyer, author, U.S. Representative from Massachusetts, envoy to China, Colombia, and Spain, brigadier general in the Mexican War, Attorney General of the United States, and senior counsel for the United States at the Geneva Tribunal of Arbitration, were given to the Library of Congress in 1935 by his niece, Miss Margaret W. Cushing. Several small accessions have been acquired through purchase and gift, 1906-75.

The Library has no information on the status of copyright in the unpublished writings of Caleb Cushing in these papers and in other collections of papers in the Library's custody.

The materials contained in the Caleb Cushing papers were described on page 33 of the Report of the Librarian of Congress for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936. Provenance information may be found in Claude M. Fuess, The Life of Caleb Cushing (1923): v. 1, p. vii-viii; v. 2, p. 399-400.

Scope and Content Note

This collection of approximately 120,000 items includes diaries, journals, general and special correspondence, subject, legal, and financial files, a speech, article, and book file, and related newspaper clippings and printed matter. There is also an extensive file based on Cushing's speculation in lands, and an additional file with papers that relate to his varied public employments, beginning with the China Mission of 1843-44 and ending with his Ministry to Spain (1873-77).

General correspondence, constituting approximately one-third of the collection, thoroughly documents Cushing's life and touches on many of the national and international issues that arose during the middle years of the 19th century. The much less voluminous special correspondence series includes letters dealing with patronage questions during Cushing's congressional career (1835-43) and during his service as President Pierce's Attorney General (1853-57). Social correspondence, autograph requests, some bound correspondence, and a small amount of family correspondence round out this series.

A considerable amount of legal and business correspondence is included as part of the extensive legal file. In this file the papers are divided among cases in which Cushing was in some way personally involved, and those in which he acted as attorney or consultant. Also in the legal file, and separately arranged therein, are the drafts of Cushing's opinions as Attorney General.

Correspondence, principally of a business nature, is also included in the file of papers, illustrating Cushing's long continued financial interest in lands located from Maine to Lower California.

The speech, article, and book file has materials as disparate as fledgling attempts at poetry in 1816 and the philippic against Britain's Sir Alexander Cockburn in The Treaty of Washington (1873). The bulk of this file, however, is made up of drafts and printed copies of Cushing's speeches and addresses, and drafts of articles for the North American Review and other publications.

A subject file incorporates notes, memoranda, and extracts, largely in Cushing's hand, and principally dealing with political topics of the day. Personal miscellany contains biographical materials, early notebooks, commissions, and a few photographs. Numerous lists and inventories reflect Cushing's reading habits and wide-ranging interests. A financial file, general miscellany, newspaper clippings, and printed matter complete the collection.

From an early date Caleb Cushing was in correspondence with important men of his day. Names such as George Bancroft, Rufus Choate, Edward Everett, Jared Sparks, and Daniel Webster appear in his general correspondence as early as the 1820's, and in some instances frequently reappear for decades thereafter. A number of letters and notes from John Tyler and Franklin Pierce are found during their terms as President, but are not confined to those years. Every member of Pierce's Cabinet, including James Campbell, Jefferson Davis, James C. Dobbins, James Guthrie, Robert McClelland, and William L. Marcy, is represented in the 1853-57 period. Included among the many other prominent correspondents are Benjamin F. Butler, Hamilton Fish, Francis Lieber, Hugh McCulloch, Albert Pike, Gideon J. Pillow, John Rose, William H. Seward, Roger Taney, and John Greenleaf Whittier.

144-162	Special Correspondence, 1819-99. 19 containers. Bound copies of selected letters to Cushing, bound correspondence of I. Lowell, and correspondence and related papers of J. N. Cushing, L. B. Cushing, S. Stevens, and others. Patronage letters are included in this series, as are invitations, announcements, and requests for autographs. All are chronologically arranged within the sub-series.
163-197	Special File, 1843-78. 35 containers. Memoranda, drafts, extracts, official documents, and other materials connected with the many public roles played by Cushing are grouped under the appropriate headings and placed in chronological sequence, commencing with the mission to China and terminating with the period of the ministry to Spain. Arrangement within each particular group is chronological wherever feasible; otherwise by type of material. Correspondence removed unless noted in container list.

Container Nos.	Series
198-213	Speech, Article, and Book File, 1816-77. 16 containers. Handwritten drafts, printed copies, and newspaper accounts of Cushing's speeches, articles, and books, chronologically arranged by year; poetry separately grouped.
214-225	Subject File. 12 containers. Notes, memoranda, and extracts relating to a wide variety of topics in which Cushing interested himself. Materials are grouped by subject, alphabetically arranged.
226-330	Legal File, ca. 1785-1886. 105 containers. Includes opinions, briefs, legal documents, drafts, memoranda, notes, and printed matter, as well as a considerable amount of correspondence, all gathered into three main categories, and arranged therein, as follows:
226-232	Personal Cases, 1830-78. 7 containers. Cases in which Cushing was himself a party to the suit. Arranged chronologically by year, with the papers relating to a specific case in the same folder. In those instances where a legal case spans several years, inclusive dates are provided and the case is filed by date of initial significant correspondence. Cases occupying one or more folders are also listed by title. Papers of specific cases are not further arranged within folders.
233-246	Attorney General's Office, 1853-57. 14 containers. Material chiefly consists of drafts of Cushing's opinions. There is a small amount of official correspondence and some memoranda, notes, etc., chronologically arranged by month.

Container Nos.	Series
247-330	Miscellaneous Cases, ca. 1822-78. 84 containers. Various types of litigation, and some business ventures, in which Cushing acted as attorney, or had an interest. Arranged the same as papers filed under Personal Cases. In some instances, certain types of cases are given generic titles, e.g., Suits to Recover Confederate Property, and are filed together in same folder.
331-375	Land Speculation and Related Business Ventures, ca. 1813-1906. 45 containers. This file includes correspondence, legal and business papers, financial data, memoranda, notes, maps, newspaper clippings, and printed matter, grouped by state and then, depending on the size of the file and the nature of the material, further arranged in a rough chronology, by type of material, or alphabetically.
376-381	Personal Miscellany, ca. 1814-79. 6 containers. Biographical materials (including a portion of C. M. Fuess' manuscript), early notebooks, day books, commissions, prints and photographs, literary enterprise, and inventories and lists of books, publications, etc., alphabetically arranged by subject.
382-385	General Miscellany, 1816-78. 4 containers. Consists principally of memoranda, notes, and extracts, mostly in Cushing's hand. One box of dated material, arranged by year; remainder of undated material unarranged.
386-392	Financial File, 1805-78. 7 containers. Bills, receipts, accounts, bank books, vouchers, memoranda of expenses, etc., with some financial correspondence included. Much of the material is in small, dated bundles, as kept by Cushing, and has been arranged in a rough chronology. Remainder grouped by type of material.

Container Nos.	Series
393-417	Newspaper Clippings, ca. 1820-78. 25 containers. Unarranged, except that 2 containers have news clippings which Cushing had marked "personal."
418-419	Printed Matter. 2 containers. Pamphlets, magazines, articles, etc., some of which are annotated by Cushing; others concern him.
420-421	Oversize Material. 2 containers. Commissions, legal volumes, maps.
