

New York April 6, 1855

Dear Sir

Will you be kind enough to let me know if under the present new Diplomatic & Consular Act ~~and~~ it will be necessary to give new commissions to present incumbents - and if so, when?
You see, Mr. Geo: Scudder addresses the people upon Mr. Marcy over his own signature. This is more nearly than in the form of telegraphic dispatches from Washington. Neither however will do the Secretary much injury. But I hope you will infuse some of your more gaudy vigors into his blood, that we make a coup in this Cuban matter -

Col. Rinney is still here awaiting the signal of war. He tells me, he is determined as ever to carry out his scheme, and will soon be ready to move successfully.

Yours very truly
Chas. W. March
5 New Street

Mr. Cushing
