2 Cubans Charged With Canadian Plot

By MAGGIE BARTEL

The FBI arrested two members of the militantly anti-Castro Cuban Nationalist Movement at their New Jersey homes yesterday, and charged them with conspiring to destroy Cuban government ships and installations in Canada.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the two, both Cuban natives and naturalized United States citizens, had conspired with others to blow up the Montreal offices of the Cuban Consulate and the Cuban Trade Commission, and steamships flying the Cuban flag.

The two were arrested early in the morning. They were identified as Guillermo Novo Sampol, 29, of 583 55th St., West New York, and Felipe Martinez y Blanca, 25, of 316 44th St., Union City.

Novo Sampol was one of three men who turned themselves in after a bazooka attack on the United Nations complex while Cuban revolutionary Che Guevara was speaking there Dec. 11, 1964.

Eight in One Car

Novo Sampol's cousin, William Sampol, 28, of 1870 E. 49th St., Brooklyn, was one of eight members of the Cuban Nationalist Movement who handcuffed themselves yesterday to the fence around the UN buildings.

At 1:55 p.m. the eight piled out of a 10-year-old green sedan, rushed up to the 6-foot-high railing on UN Plaza a few feet north of 42d St., and snapped shut the cuffs, for which they had no keys.

Novo Samuel said the action was to dramatize their conviction that "the American authorities are handcuffing Cubans who want to fight communism in their homeland."

The demonstrators, snipped free by UN guards, walked off in their gray uniforms and black berets, still wearing the handcuffs as bracelets.

Novo Sampol said yesterday was the 67th anniversary of the end of the Spanish reign in Cuba.

The two New Jersey suspects were arraigned in Newark before U. S. Commissioner Thomas W. Clohosey, who held Novo Sampol in $50,000 and Martinez in $25,000 for hearing June 3. They were taken to the federal house of detention on West St. here.
