

Miami Herald 7-25-90-3

■ CUBA — On Tuesday Cuba accused the United States of encouraging terrorism by releasing Orlando Bosch, 63, said by Havana to have masterminded the destruction of a Cuban airliner in 1976. The editorial in the newspaper Granma said his release could encourage acts of violence by “terrorist elements” in Miami’s Cuban community. “This action reveals once again the hypocrisy and double standards of the White House,” Granma said.