

AMERICAN WIDOW TRIED IN CUBA—Mrs. Karen Olsen Nelson (center foreground), formerly of Albany, Ga., testifies at Santiago, Cuba, in her trial on a charge that she murdered her husband. "He staggered and fell like this," she tells the court in claiming he was killed accidentally Dec. 11, 1949, when his pistol fell from his belt and fired. Mrs. Nelson met her husband while she was a student in the Nursing School of Emory University at Atlanta, Ga. (AP Wirephoto).
