LONDON, March 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan tonight was reported seeking President Eisenhower's support for a joint effort to revive the inner workings of the United Nations.

The British leader has proposed and examined the Bermuda proposals in that way. But preliminary American reaction to the British case for reviving the UN has been lukewarm.

Macmillan's precise proposals for reorganizing the U.N. were not made public, but they are likely to appeal to the Security Council with full representation of the great powers and no one wanting to deal with war and peace issues.

The President, now facing the threat of a conference with Macmillan beginning March 21, has agreed to discuss the problem. But a new American reaction to the British case for reviving the UN has been announced as the most important power in the British government.

The President now is said to be considering American reaction to the British case for reviving the UN has been announced as the most important power in the British government.

Adm. Burke to be Saluted, Decorated on Cuban Visit

Admiral Arleigh A. Burke, the '31-Knot Burke' of World War II fame, and now chief of naval operations of the United States Navy, will arrive in Havana on Sunday, March 19, for a three-day visit as a special guest of the Cuban regime.

Admiral Burke, who heads the U.S. Pacific Command, is the highest-ranking U.S. naval officer to visit Cuba since the United States Navy was established.

Admiral Burke is expected to meet with Cuban officials and to receive a warm welcome from the Cuban people. He is also expected to inspect the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo and to visit the Cuban naval academy.

US Embassy to Check Tourist's Death Here

WASHINGTON, March 15—The U.S. Embassy in Havana has been ordered to send a team to the island to investigate the death of a U.S. tourist who was found dead in his hotel room.

The tourist, whose name has not been released, was found dead in his room at the President Hotel on Wednesday night.

The U.S. Embassy was notified of the tourist's death by the Cuban authorities and was asked to send a team to investigate.

Suspect Dragnet On, Tanks Leave

Havana police continued yesterday a wide-sweeping roundup of suspects in Wednesday's surprise attack on the Palace of the Governor by a group of rebels.

Meanwhile, everything was outwardly calm and normal; tens of thousands of Cubans continued operating as usual.

There was no official announcement of the number of persons taken into custody, but reliable estimates placed it at 200-250 persons, of whom 200 were released.

The four tanks which guarded the attack were on duty both inside and outside the Palace, including military intelligence headquarters.

Auto Salesmen Here, Havana Trip

Fifty-two Mercury salesmen from the eastern half of the United States accompanied a delegation of 500 salesmen of Ford Motor Company.

The salesmen are members of the Mercury Division of Ford Motor Company. They were invited to visit Havana as part of a five-day trip to Cuba. As part of the trip they will tour Havana and other parts of Cuba, including the country's major cities.

Cuba as the site of a new factory was accused of being the reason that the delegation was invited to Havana. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the government of Cuba are planning to build a new factory in Cuba for the production of Mercury automobiles.
