INTRODUCTION

R. L. POLK & CO., publishers of the Tampa City Directory, as well as more than 700 other city, county, state and national directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1930 edition of the Tampa Directory.

Confidence in the continued growth of Tampa's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be created as sections of this directory are consulted, for the directory is a mirror truly reflecting Tampa to the world.

The enviable position occupied by R. L. POLK & CO.'S directories in the estimation of the public throughout the country, has been established by rendering the best in directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having the courteous and hearty co-operation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Tampa Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

Population

The estimated population of Tampa is 138,515, based on the number of individuals' names in the alphabetical section of the directory, with due allowance for children and for women whose names are not listed separately from those of their husbands. Territory immediately adjacent, which is part of the city, as far as business and social life are concerned, is included in the directory.

Four Major Departments

The several essential departments are arranged in the following order:

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, pages 29 to 68, printed on tinted paper, contains the advertisements of leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of Tampa. These pages will be found particularly interesting and instructive to substantial purchasing factors. The advertisements have been carefully grouped by departments and are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best, and, as such, merits a survey by all buyers eager to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. The city's activities, in many interesting phases, are authentically pictured. In a large commercial and industrial center like Tampa, the necessity of having this kind of information immediately available, is very great, and frequently, pressing. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the liberal support the city directory enjoys in the many fields which it serves.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents, business firms and corporations is included in pages 69 to 643. A feature of this section is the inclusion of the wife's name in parentheses following that of the husband.

THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, covers pages 645 to 820. In this section the named streets and avenues are arranged in alphabetical order, followed by the numbered streets in numerical order; the residences and business houses are arranged numerically under the name of each street and avenue, and the names of householders and business concerns are placed opposite the numbers.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 821 to 900. This department lists the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional interests in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluable and indispensable epitome of the business interests of the community. "The Directory is the common intermediary between Buyer and Seller." As such it plays no small part in the daily doings of the business world. "More goods are bought and sold through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium."

History

Tampa was the name of the Indian village which rested on the shores of the broad blue bay of the same name when early Spanish explorers guided their ships into this inviting harbor.

Early American history is usually thought of in terms of Plymouth Rock and Jamestown, yet long before the white man first set foot in these spots, what is now Tampa, Florida, had been visited by the Spaniards several times.

The first recorded visit of white men was over 400 years ago. Panfilo de Narvaez, successor of Cortez, conqueror of Mexico, sailed into Tampa Bay in April, 1528. Eleven years later, Hernando DeSoto, Spanish Governor of Cuba, arrived here in his own sailing vessels. He found the Indians unfriendly, and tradition has it that under a certain spreading oak tree he met with the lawmakers of the tribes to make negotiations. This tree, known as the DeSoto Oak, is now standing in Plant Park, Tampa.

According to tradition, also, in the days when piracy was rife, ships bearing the skull and cross-bones frequented this sheltered harbor, and gay marauders buried their treasures on its shores and spent weeks there, resting and revelling after a daring voyage. One of the most picturesque figures was Captain Jose Gasparilla, and it is said that his festive train rivalled in brilliancy a European court. It is from these traditions that the young men of Tampa have in recent years developed the theme of the Gasparilla Carnival, Tampa’s world-famous annual Spanish festival. In reality, Gasparilla’s name was Gaspard III.

The real settlement of the village was made 106 years ago, on March 5, 1823, when four companies of the United States Army from Pensacola sailed into Tampa Bay. This contingent marched into that section which has been named “The Garrison” and which today is valuable manufacturing and waterfront property. Here they cleared away the brush, cut logs and built a fort. The landing place down the bay was named Gadsden Point and the military post was called Fort Brooke, after Colonel Brooke and Lieutenant Gadsden, who were in command of the contingent. For years the settlement which grew up around this post was known as Fort Brooke,

The year of the California gold rush, the citizens of the town held a mass meeting in the court house to vote on the proposal to have Tampa incorporated. There were fourteen votes in the affirmative and in the negative. Incorporation was not effected, however, until 1885. The Civil War intervening. During the Civil War Tampa was invaded and captured by the Union Navy.

Tampa again came into historical prominence during the Spanish-American War in 1898, when it was the embarkation point for troops transported to Cuba. Theodore Roosevelt and his Rough Riders were encamped here for several weeks.

In the decade between 1880 and 1890 the cigar industry was established in Tampa, simultaneously with the building of the first railroad by H. B. Plant, millionaire railroad pioneer, and the first developer of the west coast of Florida.

The opening of the Panama Canal greatly enhanced the value of Tampa as a port, and since that time the history of the city has been one of steady growth and increasing prosperity.
Today Tampa is one of the most thriving and prosperous cities of Florida. Located at the heart of a network of excellent paved roads and railroads, it is within a half-hour's to a few hours' drive to every point in the state, and has rightfully been named "Florida's Convenient Center." The Tampa trade area contains a population of over three quarters of a million, and covers the richest agricultural and mining country in the state. Through Tampa is handled the majority of the fruits and vegetables from the rich highlands of the state, and through Tampa this perishable supply is shipped via rail or boat to the consumer markets of America, and in refrigerator vessels to the ports of the world.

Tampa's harbor is the gateway to Central and South America, and the export point for the world's largest supplies of phosphate.

Tampa Water Works

Tampa's municipally-owned water plant is one of the most up-to-date in the country, however not the largest by any means. The excellence and purity of Tampa's water supply is, of course, a great advantage to the community.

Tampa's water is analyzed hourly by expert chemists and, consequently, is absolutely free from impurities. It is now being used on ships and in boilers and other engines where freedom from hardness or chemical residue is an absolute requirement. It is colorless and palatable to the taste.

The water plant was owned originally by the Tampa Water Works Company, a subsidiary of the E. R. D. Wood Co., of Philadelphia. It was purchased by the city July 1, 1923, and a 1924 construction of the new plant and pumping station was started being completed in 1926. The new pumping station has a pumping capacity of 25,000,000 gallons daily; and the filtration plant has a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons. The old plant has a capacity of 15,000,000 daily and is now subsidiary to the new plant, being kept in readiness for emergencies, and can be placed in full operation in thirty minutes notice. This is a very valuable feature from a fire-fighting standpoint. The plant is self-supporting and shows a reasonable return on the investment.

Tampa Electric Company

The Tampa Electric Company does the entire electric lighting, power, street railway and bus business in the city of Tampa, and the entire electric lighting and power business in Mulberry, Safety Harbor and Tampa-shores. Through subsidiary companies it does the electric lighting and power business, and operates ice plants, in Dade City, Plant City and Winter Haven, and supplies water in Winter Haven. The Tampa generating plant supplies practically all the electricity distributed in Hillsborough County which has an estimated permanent population of 220,000. At Winter Haven, in Polk County, service is given to a population of approximately 14,000 including nearby towns, and at Dade City, in Pasco County, service is given to approximately 4,000 inhabitants.

Tampa Gas Company

Within the past three years the Tampa Gas Company has completed a huge development program, which included the complete rebuilding of its plant and the building of a three-million cubic feet capacity tank. Now with the opening of another year, this company announces its intention of adding still another plant to its facilities during the present year.

Records of the Tampa Gas Company show a remarkable increase since 1920, as the following table will show:

Industrial Development

Tampa's status as the industrial metropolis of Florida is indisputable. In fact, few Southern communities possess so valuable an industrial asset as Tampa's great cigar manufacturing interests, solidly founded on four decades of merchandising in every state of the Union. In addition, the city is steadily forging ahead in diversified manufacture. On one hand is a fine harbor, and on the other, a widely radiating system of railroads and paved highways radiating from Tampa and reaching every section of the state and every county. In combination, this facility structure affords advantage which manufacturers and distributors are swift to grasp.

Industrial Tampa entered 1930 stronger and sounder than ever before in the history of the city. Merchants and all classes of business men generally look forward to the future with confidence.

Nation's Business for January, 1930, shows Tampa as one of twenty-three white spots indicative of good business in the entire nation. In February there were but thirteen white spots and Tampa was one of them. Tampa is a year around city of industrial activity.

A survey of the accomplishments in Tampa and vicinity in 1929 indicate that practically all lines of business are on the upgrade and that the industrial payroll of the city totals about $800,000 each week, distributed among 42,415 wage-earners, with manufactured products for the past year valued at $150,000,000.

Dawn of the new year saw also new developments, construction work and other projects worth approximately $15,000,000 either under way or planned for the immediate future. With tentative plans being made for several new plants, construction and development work in 1930 will show a healthy gain over the past year.

Approximately 1,000 more persons are employed in industry here now than were at work a year ago, according to a Chamber of Commerce survey, and unemployment is not serious.

Lumber exports have assumed a large place in Tampa's shipping, more than 88,000,000 feet having been exported in 1929. This greatly exceeds the total lumber exports from Tampa from 1920 to 1927 inclusive.

During the past three years the tonnage of citrus fruits, both canned and fresh, shipped by water has been rapidly climbing into large figures.

The year just closed also saw substantial gains made in the manufacture of cigars and the exportation of phosphate.

504,753,265 cigars were made here in 1929, as against 490,174,538 in 1928. The year's cigar production brought approximately $57,000,000 to the city's factories—more than $1,000,000 for each week in the year. If the cigars made in Tampa last year were placed end to end they would form a line more than circling the earth.

Phosphate shipments totaled 1,777,305 tons in 1929, going to fifteen foreign countries and thirteen states in this country. Ships from every maritime nation on the globe put into port of Tampa for cargoes of phosphate. A total of all the phosphate in the United States.

United States Customs receipts showed a gain of $10,600 over 1928. Total receipts for the year amounted to $2,878,618, against $2,868,010 for 1928.

Noteworthy among the accomplishments in Tampa during 1929 was the active operation of the $3,100,000 plant of the Tampa Union Terminal Company, which includes marine terminals, packing-house and pre-cooling and cold and bonded storage warehouse. The construction of this gigantic plant will mean the saving of thousands of dollars annually to shippers of citrus fruits and other perishables.

Sustained activity on Davis Islands, noted Riviera and residential section dredged up from Tampa Bay, was another accomplishment of great importance. The company has continued uninterruptedly its program of construction work, home-building and development of island property.

Tampa has 499 industrial concerns, each employing five to 1,500 operatives. This number is smaller than was the case at the beginning of 1928, but the decrease is due, not to failures, but to the merger of the smaller concerns, making the entire industrial field more stable than for the previous year. A number of these plants, such as the A. C. L. locomotive repair shops and the public utility concerns, do not produce commodities on which a definite value may be placed. The calculable value of manufactured products for 1928 amounted to $150,000,000.

A list of classes of products of Tampa manufacturers follows:

Aprons, awnings, auto tops, boats, brooms, brick, beverages, bakery products, batteries, boxes, canned foods, crates, chemicals, cigars, concrete products, caskets, conveyors, confections, cabinet work, coffee, cement, cur-
INTRODUCTION

Tampa leads the world in the shipment of phosphate, and the majority of the world's supply of this mineral lies within a radius of seventy-five miles of this city.

During 1929 a total of 1,777,305 tons of phosphate was shipped through Tampa's port, in addition to the huge amounts used in the manufacture of fertilizer and other by-products in Tampa and vicinity.

Cigar Industries

In number of cigars manufactured during 1929, Tampa exceeded last year's record by 14,578,707 with a total of 504,753,265 cigars produced. This was the largest number manufactured in a year since the establishment of the industry here in 1880.

Tampa continues to lead the world in the manufacture of clear Havana cigars, and cigar manufacturing continues to lead the industries of Tampa from the standpoint of number of factories and employees, internal revenue paid, capital invested and quantity of production. At the present time there are about 160 cigar factories in operation, five of which are bonded factories, that is to say that cigars bearing the government stamp made in bond are produced under the eye of government representatives from the time the tobacco leaves the ship until the box is sealed with the guarantee that none but clear Havana material is used. This is the only city in which the government renders this service.

In most of the cigar factories the Spanish hand method is used exclusively, and one is struck by the absence of machinery and smokestacks and by the foreign aspect of the workers, most of whom are of Latin extraction and live in the quaint Spanish quarter, often spoken of as "Little Havana." This section is particularly interesting to visitors who enjoy observing foreign customs, and the Spanish restaurants of Ybor City are famed for their cuisine.

Allied with the manufacture of cigars is the cigar box industry, Tampa having two very large factories and several smaller ones. Cedar logs from Cuba and Mexico, for making boxes, are an important item of importation.

In recognition of the absence of labor disturbances among the workers for several years, the interesting custom of having books and papers read aloud in Spanish during the working hours has been restored to the factories.

Retail and Wholesale Trade

The Tampa trade territory extends over twenty-nine counties and includes the most fertile and well-developed areas in the state. Approximately 750,000 people live within trading distance of Tampa.

A complete system of paved highways, important railway extensions and steamship connection with other cities of the Florida west coast have established Tampa as the logical trading point for this vast territory, which includes the world's most productive phosphate fields, unlimited tracts of virgin timber, the finest citrus and winter strawberry and truck producing sections in the country, and thriving cities and towns having substantial populations, as well as established winter tourist patronage.

To serve this territory, Tampa has more than 150 wholesale houses and distribution stations for firms of national scope. These establishments supply groceries, meats, produce, dry goods, clothing, novelties, hay and grain, drugs, auto supplies, beverages, cigars, electrical supplies, fertilizer, seeds, hardware, ice, ice cream, mill supplies, lumber and building materials and other commodities. The importance of Tampa's wholesale trade cannot be overemphasized.
