Dear friends:

Next April, AREITO magazine will be ten years old. When just published in 1974, AREITO became one of the first public signs that the Cuban-American community was not monolithic in its views towards the Cuban Revolution as well as the first expression of the progressive movement within our community. Since then, we have published AREITO uninterruptedly and thus it is with pride and satisfaction that we celebrate our tenth anniversary.

We are currently preparing a tenth anniversary issue for April which will include, among others, a selection of previously published materials and an interview with Lourdes Casal done shortly before her death. We are writing to you to request your support for that issue. Enclosed you will find a scale of rates for your advertisement and/or anniversary message.

Given the increasing attention politicians and the media are paying to the Latino communities, it is more important than ever to dispel the monolithic image of the Cuban community. AREITO has been a consistent voice in the effort to widen the spectrum of public expression in our community. Your support is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
