

DID YOU KNOW?

• Federal Pro-Castro Subsidies. Antonio de la Cova of the Selous Foundation's Institute for U.S.-Cuba Relations recently charged that U.S. tax dollars are being used in a propaganda drive to normalize relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba. In a paper entitled "Academic Espionage," Cova states that the U.S. State Department has given half a million dollars to a group of Cuban-American university professors who have strong ties to front groups of Castro's secret police. Most of the group of 17 professors, who are based out of Florida International University, have publicly declared that the United States should end its embargo against Cuba and normalize trade relations with that nation. The government-funded pro-Castro propaganda commission is expected to publish its final report, titled Cuba in Transition, in June 1993.

U.S. tax dollars are being used on Pro-Castro propaganda