

We learn from the Democratic Banner of the 19th, that a horrible affair occurred at Aberdeen, Maine (pt), on Saturday, the 14th, which resulted in the death of a Mr. FANNIS. It seems that FANNIS had won a considerable amount from Col. M. J. DUTCH, at cards, which the latter agreed to pay at a certain time. When FANNIS called at DUTCH's room he found it locked, and walked down the steps. Before reaching the foot of the steps DUTCH came to the door and called him, and immediately fired both barrels of a double-barrel shot gun at him, and then ran down the steps and beat him with the gun. FANNIS served as an officer in the Texas revolution and in the Mexican war, and was a brother of the hero who fell at the FANNIS massacre. Colonel HENNA had not been arrested.
