

MICHAEL FANNIN KILLED.—We learn from our exchanges that Michael Fannin, of Austin, was killed at Aberdeen, Mississippi, on the 13th of May, by Col. M. J. Bunch. It appears that the deceased had won the Colonel's money, horse and buggy, and negro boy, which he was to redeem the next day. Fannin went to his office to get his money, and found the door locked. He started down stairs, but before he got to the bottom, Bunch came out and hailed him, and as Fannin turned, he shot him in the face, with a double barreled gun. Fannin fell and Bunch fired again, hitting him in the abdomen. He then run down stairs and beat Fannin with the gun until it was broken to pieces. The murderer gave himself up.
