

Among the most recent arrivals in our city, we note those of Hon. John Hemphill, late the United States Senator from Texas, and Col. S. A. Lockridge, of Nicaraguan fame, both of whom have been passing some time at Pensacola, and are now on their way to the State of the Lone Star. We see it stated in the Pensacola Observer of the 1st inst., that the Col. is engaged in equipping and getting ready for the field an independent mounted Texas Ranger Company, whose services are to be given to the Confederate States Government, to do duty in Virginia or wherever else they may be most needed. They are to be armed with Colt's six shooters and Sharp's rifles. The majority of the members are old Texans, who have already had considerable experience in their peculiar species of warfare.
