

LAWRENCE IN ASHES.

SHERIFF JONES LEADS THE POLICE.

CANNONING-MURDERS.

A part of the mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners.

From Our Special Correspondent.

LEAVENWORTH, K. T., May 23, 1858.

The war has been a long one. The best of these men, empowered by the Legislature of Kansas to suppress the rebellion, have been driven to interfere with the policy of making it a slave State, and have incurred the wrath of a mob of rebels and murderers...

The mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

The mob in Leavenworth was a great many of the men were discharging duty and running about with their rifles and shotguns, and with the most horrible impressions.

Several men were reported killed, but the loss of life and other outrages perpetrated on the helpless women and children will not be known. They can be guessed when it is known that such a mob were firing at the houses with their artillery...

Comparatively few men were in Lawrence when the attack was made. When it was resolved that the United States authorities should not in any way molest the rebels...

It is said that the design of the mob was to proceed to Topeka next, and wipe out that place; in fact, no Free-State man or settlement is now safe from their bloody rage...

THE SACKING OF LAWRENCE.

A little before seven o'clock on Saturday morning, May 22, the mob entered Lawrence, and proceeded to sack the town. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

of the United States troops under the banner of the Free State...

The mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

The mob in Leavenworth was a great many of the men were discharging duty and running about with their rifles and shotguns, and with the most horrible impressions.

Several men were reported killed, but the loss of life and other outrages perpetrated on the helpless women and children will not be known.

Comparatively few men were in Lawrence when the attack was made. When it was resolved that the United States authorities should not in any way molest the rebels...

It is said that the design of the mob was to proceed to Topeka next, and wipe out that place; in fact, no Free-State man or settlement is now safe from their bloody rage...

FROM LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, K. T., Monday, May 19, 1858. The mob has been taken by both parties that will have a powerful effect upon the cause of Freedom...

SHERIFFS POSITION.

Upon leaving the city, Sheriff Jones was met by a mob of rebels and murderers. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

of the United States troops under the banner of the Free State...

The mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

The mob in Leavenworth was a great many of the men were discharging duty and running about with their rifles and shotguns, and with the most horrible impressions.

Several men were reported killed, but the loss of life and other outrages perpetrated on the helpless women and children will not be known.

Comparatively few men were in Lawrence when the attack was made. When it was resolved that the United States authorities should not in any way molest the rebels...

It is said that the design of the mob was to proceed to Topeka next, and wipe out that place; in fact, no Free-State man or settlement is now safe from their bloody rage...

FROM LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, K. T., Monday, May 19, 1858. The mob has been taken by both parties that will have a powerful effect upon the cause of Freedom...

SHERIFFS POSITION.

Upon leaving the city, Sheriff Jones was met by a mob of rebels and murderers. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

of the United States troops under the banner of the Free State...

The mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

The mob in Leavenworth was a great many of the men were discharging duty and running about with their rifles and shotguns, and with the most horrible impressions.

Several men were reported killed, but the loss of life and other outrages perpetrated on the helpless women and children will not be known.

Comparatively few men were in Lawrence when the attack was made. When it was resolved that the United States authorities should not in any way molest the rebels...

It is said that the design of the mob was to proceed to Topeka next, and wipe out that place; in fact, no Free-State man or settlement is now safe from their bloody rage...

FROM LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, K. T., Monday, May 19, 1858. The mob has been taken by both parties that will have a powerful effect upon the cause of Freedom...

SHERIFFS POSITION.

Upon leaving the city, Sheriff Jones was met by a mob of rebels and murderers. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

of the United States troops under the banner of the Free State...

The mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

The mob in Leavenworth was a great many of the men were discharging duty and running about with their rifles and shotguns, and with the most horrible impressions.

Several men were reported killed, but the loss of life and other outrages perpetrated on the helpless women and children will not be known.

Comparatively few men were in Lawrence when the attack was made. When it was resolved that the United States authorities should not in any way molest the rebels...

It is said that the design of the mob was to proceed to Topeka next, and wipe out that place; in fact, no Free-State man or settlement is now safe from their bloody rage...

FROM LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, K. T., Monday, May 19, 1858. The mob has been taken by both parties that will have a powerful effect upon the cause of Freedom...

SHERIFFS POSITION.

Upon leaving the city, Sheriff Jones was met by a mob of rebels and murderers. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

of the United States troops under the banner of the Free State...

The mob proceeded to Leavenworth to hang Gov. Johnson and other prisoners. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...

The mob in Leavenworth was a great many of the men were discharging duty and running about with their rifles and shotguns, and with the most horrible impressions.

Several men were reported killed, but the loss of life and other outrages perpetrated on the helpless women and children will not be known.

Comparatively few men were in Lawrence when the attack was made. When it was resolved that the United States authorities should not in any way molest the rebels...

It is said that the design of the mob was to proceed to Topeka next, and wipe out that place; in fact, no Free-State man or settlement is now safe from their bloody rage...

FROM LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, K. T., Monday, May 19, 1858. The mob has been taken by both parties that will have a powerful effect upon the cause of Freedom...

SHERIFFS POSITION.

Upon leaving the city, Sheriff Jones was met by a mob of rebels and murderers. The mob was led by Sheriff Jones, who was not immediately led to Leavenworth...