

FURTHER FROM KANSAS.

Return Home of the Missourians.—It appears that the Missourians, 2,400 strong, with four pieces of artillery, under General Heiskell, who proceeded towards Lawrence on the 14th instant to attack that town, halted at Franklin. Here they received notice from Colonel Cook, that he had a large body of United States troops, and should defend Lawrence at all hazards. On the 15th, Governor Cleary arrived at Franklin, and had a consultation with the officers of the invading army. He told them that he was prepared to enforce the laws, arrest offenders, to crush insurrection, and suppress disorders, with the aid of the troops placed under his command, and that the interposition of the Missourians under General Heiskell was no longer necessary. As an evidence of his ability to enforce the laws, he told them that he had just arrested 90 or 100 outlaws, who would be properly tried by the legal authorities. In view of these facts, the Governor urged the Missourians to disband, and abandon their projected attempt on Lawrence.

General Atchison, General Reid, and Colonel Titus, addressed the meeting, and urged compliance with the Governor's proposal. The Governor then withdrew from the conference, to afford to the Missourians an opportunity to act among themselves on his suggestion. A meeting was instantly organized, by calling General Atchison to the chair. Resolutions were passed, declaring that, relying on the protection promised to peaceable settlers by the Governor, they, the invading army, would disband, and return to their homes—requesting the Governor to organize and distribute over the Territory a force of militia to protect the settlers from marauders and robbers—and recommending that Colonel Titus be made commander of the militia of the Territory. The Missourians then broke up camp, and returned home, except those who intended to settle in the Territory.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Private advices from Kansas to the 18th have been received. The Territory has been tolerably quiet. The border has been closed against the Free State men. Gen. Lane was at Nebraska city on the 18th.

Col. Harvey had captured the famous "Long Star" flag of the South Carolinians.
