OBITUARY.

MRS. SARAH G. CONWAY. — Mrs. Sarah G. Conway, the manageress of the Boston Lyceum, died last evening, at her house on Franklin Street, at six o'clock, after a short illness. She was born in Boston, and was a member of the convention of the Academy of Music in aid of St. Mary's Hospital. Mrs. Conway was a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music and a fine soprano singer. She was a member of the Boston Lyceum for over thirty years, and was one of the most popular entertainers in the city. She was also a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. After her marriage to Mr. Conway she became the owner of the Boston Lyceum, and was the manager for many years. She was a kind and considerate hostess and was loved by all who knew her. She was a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Sciences and was a frequent contributor to the American Journal of Science. She was always ready to help any person who came to her for assistance. She was a well-educated lady and was always willing to share her knowledge with others. She was a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Sciences and was a frequent contributor to the American Journal of Science. She was always ready to help any person who came to her for assistance. She was a kind and considerate hostess and was loved by all who knew her. She was a well-educated lady and was always willing to share her knowledge with others. She was a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Sciences and was a frequent contributor to the American Journal of Science. She was always ready to help any person who came to her for assistance.

ANTONIO LUCAS, THE EMINENT CUBAN REBEL. — Antonio Lucas, a rebel surgeon, was executed by the Spaniards at Porto Principe, Cuba, on the 12th day of this month. He was a young man of unusual merit and was a favorite of the people. He was a good friend to the Spaniards and was always willing to help them in any way he could. He was a brave and gallant soldier and was always ready to fight for his country. He was a kind and considerate hostess and was loved by all who knew him. He was a well-educated lady and was always willing to share her knowledge with others. He was a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Sciences and was a frequent contributor to the American Journal of Science. He was always ready to help any person who came to her for assistance. He was a kind and considerate hostess and was loved by all who knew him. He was a well-educated lady and was always willing to share her knowledge with others. He was a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Sciences and was a frequent contributor to the American Journal of Science. He was always ready to help any person who came to her for assistance.