

---

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has been taking up collections in his church, in Brooklyn, for purchasing the freedom of some slaves—and a great parade is made about the matter. Citizens of States in which slavery exists had already liberally subscribed for the same purpose. These latter make no fuss about it, because they are accustomed to such things, in cases where they think their aid is bestowed upon proper objects and for proper reasons.

---