

---

Jas. E. Burr, late one of the imprisoned abolitionists, arrived in this city last Saturday, in good health and spirits, and has gone on his way to visit his friends at the East. Alanson Work, who was liberated some time ago, having settled his private affairs at Quincy, has gone with his family to reside at the East. [Chicago Citizen.