FUNERAL OF WORTH BAGLEY.
First officer killed in the war buried with military honors at Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, N.C., May 16.—The funeral of Ensign Worth Bagley, the first officer killed in the war with Spain, was held here to-day. The body, which arrived late last night, was met by an escort of the First Regiment of Volunteers and taken to the home of Ensign Bagley's mother, where a detail of troops kept constant guard.

On the casket were the dead officer's chapeau and sword. Among the floral offerings, which lined the vault and filled all available space in the room, were palms sent by Gen. Breckinridge in memory of his son, the late Cabell Breckinridge, young Bagley's classmate.

There were also flowers covered with a Nationa. flag, sent by the Breckinridge family: seaweed and oleanter from the people of Key West; flowers from Capt. Chester of the cruiser Cincinnati; porcelain flowers from the men of the torpedo boat Winslow; palms tied with the navy colors, orange and blue, by Miss Gertrude Phillips of Washington, and a North Carolina flag of flowers, from Savannah.

There were scores of floral pieces from towns in North Carolina. At the doorway of the house was looped a National flag with a white streamer. Assistant Naval Constructor Lieut. G. A. C. Breckinridge came from Norfolk Navy Yard to represent the Navy Department. The body remained at the house until 2:30 a.m. Saturday morning, when it was taken to the Capitol and placed in the rotunda. A stream of people flowed by for two hours. The face was not exposed. It had been reported that it was disfigured, but this was inaccurate. The face wore a smile.

The casket was removed from the rotunda at 6 o'clock and placed in front of the Statue of Washington. A military guard of honor, formed by the United States, State, and city officials, military, veterans' cadet, and school children. Col. Thomas Kennon was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Dr. Eugene Daniels, Ensign Bagley's pastor, conducted the services.

The procession at 5:30 moved to Oakwood Cemetery as follows: the First and Second Regiments of United States Volunteers, music, body in funeral car draped in black, drawn by six horses with black housings, with six Sergeants as body bearers and six Captains of volunteers as honorary pall bearers, followed by the family, together with Lieut. Adams, United States Navy; Agricultural and Mechanical College cadets, Conferaorate, Grand Army Post, Camp Grand, Camp Grant, and Bagley's classmates, and pupils of the public schools.

Five thousand people saw the procession. All business was suspended during the exercises. The ceremonies at the grave were completed with the final one, the last volley to the grave, prayer and benediction. Then, "Now the Day is Over," a solo, the last sententia of "Anchor'd," and the "Naman Prayer."

As the procession moved eleven guns were fired by a battery and eleven were fired at the grave. Two thousand five hundred volleys. The body was buried quite near the grave of Ensign Bazley's grandfather, Gov. Worth.
