34, P. O. Avenue,

Honorable,

J. A. B. Davis.

Assistant Secretary of State.
Washington, D.C.

Sir,

Referring to the letter which I addressed to you some days ago, relative to a charge of some $7⁰⁰ made against me, at the instance of one of the Foreign Ministers, who exhibited a receipt from me, while Vice Consul General at Havana, for a balance due the Estate of a seaman, - I now have the honor to transmit a triplicate of said account, which was made up at Havana, April 16th, 1868, and is in the handwriting of Mr. L. V. Schmidt, one of my clerks, at the time and fully endorsed by me. I have not my letter book, to know precisely when I forwarded the account of Martin Hansen to the Department, but I well remember that I was very particular in reporting every thing connected with the Consulate, which it was my duty to attend to. - I am not infallible, - and it may, perhaps, have escaped me, in the multiplicity of the duties I had to perform. - If the original and duplicate have not found their way to the Treasury, then I suggest you will enclose this triplicate to that Department; and,

J. A. B. Davis

if not found entered in my accounts, - then let the charge of $7.20 stand against me, - until such time as Congress decides on my petition for relief, and does me full justice.

In my previous (last) letter to the Department of State, I informed you that I had paid over to Mrs. Emily C. Hall, my successor in office, - the balance due to a Mexican Seaman, and also delivered his due of clothing to that gentleman, - and that I recollect the fact.

The enclosed receipt, for $7.20 - from Mr.
Hall, shows that I was correct and, the Seaman's name was Francisco Carey, - belonging to the Swedish Barque "Catalia", - i.e. A.
Westerland - Master, and that said Francisco Carey was drowned at sea, - February 16. 1868, by accidentally falling overboard. Both of these receipts I found, yesterday, among my private papers, after a tedious search, and this goes further to show that I was most careful in preserving all such evidences, throughout the period of my incumbency as Vice Consul General in Havana.

The receipt of Mr. Hall is dated on the 3^d of May 1869, and I left Havana - the next day, May 4^d, 1869, in the Steamer "Cuba"; thus showing that it was among the very last transactions, of an official character,

I had with Mr. H. C. Hall. - I have no doubt Mr. Hall has remitted the amount to the proper authorities in Mexico.

I have always been honest and intend to end my days as an honest man.

Yours, Sir,

Very Respectfully.

Your obedient servant,

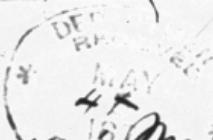

H. R. de Las Peñitas.

Having learned through was to meet at Washington to consider the claims of American citizens for injuries sustained by the rebellion in Cuba, we wish to ask if that Commission is the regularly constituted one for the adjustment of all claims, or merely for the special arrangement of damages in cases like the Lloyd to present, based upon injuries by the unjust embargos of property found

Dear Sir.

I have been informed that communications have been dispatched to your Department from Ecuador, representing the "Amdurango" to be a valuable remedy in the treatment of cancer. I am a practising physician in New York and am much interested in the treatment of this disease, having several cases now under my care. This fact will I trust explain the liberty which I have taken in thus addressing you. I may add that I am connected with public institutions in this city and a fellow of the Academy me where I can obtain any facts with regard to the new remedy or procure a supply of it? With

I beg leave to acquaint you herewith of a letter I received from Hon. A. C. Gillem U. S. Consul at Guanacaste, this morning saying the order issued in January last for the remission of the fine imposed upon the City "Town of the South" had not yet come to hand.

I cannot understand why there should be so much delay in the matter, provided our Consulate in Cuba give it any attention, and think of you would help the kindress to ammendate with them again, it might be the means of having the order forwarded to Mr. Gillem without further delay.

Dear Sir,

Since addressing you last on the 4th ult. I have been advising the U. S. Consul Mr A. N. Young, my superior in office at St. Jago de Cuba of my nonreception of the Gredendaltes order for collection of the fine imposed upon the big Queen of the South and up to date I have been waiting in vain to receive the same so as to be able to obtain the amount and remit it to you - I am at a loss to understand where the fault of so much remissness lies, but as long as my Superiors in office do not insist on the Gredendaltes order being forwarded to me, I can do nothing further in the matter, but let you know that I am not to blame for your being kept any longer out of these funds, remaining

Refers to Report of Board of Inquiry, dated May 16, 1866, sent to the Secretary of State, June 4, 1867.

Hon. Hamilton Fish,

Secretary of State.

Sir:

I have the honor to suggest that the Department request the Secretary of the Navy to direct any Naval officers accessible, who are cognizant of the treatment received by Thomas Marin, the commander of the steamers "Maranon" and "Marques de la Habana", seized by the U. S. sloop of war Saratoga in March 1860, while on board of that vessel and the U. S. sloop of war Preble, to make depositions of the facts favorable to the United States in the matter of the claim of Marin before this Commission.

I transmitted to the Department a copy of the memorials in this case on the 6th of April 1871, but now enclose another copy.

It will be seen that the petitioner claims damages for alleged cruel treatment on board of the U. S. vessels Saratoga and Preble at the hands of the officers of those vessels. It appears that Commander Turner was in command of the Saratoga, and Commander Thornton A. Jenkins commanded the Preble. The latter officer is on duty in this city. The former, I believe, is deceased but I presume some surviving officer of the Saratoga at that time, is accessible.

The object of the deposition will be to negative and disprove the alleged improper treatment of the claimant with a view to reduce the damages, if the Commissioners should decide that the claim is well founded in law.

The defendants may also state any facts favorable to the United States in the consideration of this claim as exhibited in the memorial.

I have the honor to be,
Very Respectfully

MEMORIAL OF THOMAS MARIN.

To the Honorable Commission established under the treaty between the Republic of Mexico and the United States of America of the 4th of July, 1868.

The memorial of Thomas Marin respectfully shows:

That he is a native of the city of Mexico and a citizen of the Republic of Mexico; that he has never changed his nationality, or sworn allegiance to any other government; that, at present, he resides in the city of Havana, in the Island of Cuba, having, until lately, been prevented from returning to Mexico by political circumstances; that the claim against the Government of the United States is made in his own behalf and in his own right, and does now, and did at the time of its origin, solely belong to him; and that no other person is interested therein.

Your memorialist shows that, in the year 1860, the Republic of Mexico was involved in civil war, two parties contending for political power; that the said two parties were called, from the names of their respective leaders, the Miramon party and the Juarez party; and that, in the beginning of 1860, the Miramon party was in possession of the capital and adjacent country, and the Juarez party was in possession of the city of Vera Cruz, the neighboring fort of San Juan de Ulloa and the adjacent country, and Vera Cruz was besieged by the forces of the Miramon party.

The memorialist shows that, from early life, and he is now far advanced in years, he engaged in the military and naval service of his native country; that, already many years ago, he had attained the rank of general, and that, long before 1860, he was the military commandant of the States of Vera Cruz and Tabasco, and also commander of the naval establishment.

The memorialist shows that in 1860 he was in the service of the Miramon Government with the rank of rear admiral; that he received a commission from said Government to buy and arm two merchant steamers; that for this purpose he proceeded to Havana, and there bought a steamer, to which, after having nationalized her, he gave the name of "Miramon;" that at the same time and place he contracted with C. Yglesias, the owner of the steamer "Marqués de la Habana," for the sale thereof to the Mexican Government, represented by the memorialist, one of the conditions of said sale being that she should be delivered and paid for in one of the ports of the Gulf of Mexico; that for this purpose the said Yglesias put Manuel Arias in charge of her, and appointed him captain; that the squadron, composed of said steamers Miramon and Marqués de la Habana, was under the command of the memorialist, set sail from Havana on the 27th of February, 1860, and after having touched at Sisal and Salinas, arrived on the evening of the 6th of March, 1860, in the port of Anton Lizardo, on the coast of Mexico, where they lay to within a mile of the shore, with a view of proceeding the next day to the port of Alvarado, where President Miramon was supposed to be. The memorialist was on board the Miramon, and Captain Arias on the Marqués de la Habana. At about half-past eleven o'clock of that night notice was given to the memorialist that several vessels were approaching them, coming from the direction of Vera Cruz; that having made use of his telescope, the memorialist recognized two steamboats and a three-master; that the memorialist being aware that the Juarez Government had had, and as he thought, still had in its service two gunboats, named the Wave and the Indianola, and supposing that these were the boats in sight, as in reality they were, gave orders to raise steam in order to avoid them; that, however, armed boats were sent from said gunboats against the vessels of the memorialist, preventing their withdrawal; that the said gunboats fired with cannons and with musketry upon the two above-named vessels, in which they were assisted by a three-master, the American sloop of war Saratoga, Captain Turner; and that at first the vessels of the memorialist defended themselves, but having between the two boats but one gun mounted, and aware of the immense superiority of the assailants, and particularly when the memorialist ascertained that the principal assailant was a regular man of war of the Government of the United States, with which country the Government in whose service the memorialist was most desirous to avoid all complications, he gave orders to abstain from firing.

Your memorialist further shows that the aforesaid gunboats Wave and Indianola had a number of high Mexican officers on board, belonging to the Juarez party, but the boats themselves were in charge of officers of the American navy, Lieutenants Kennard and Bryson, and had crews taken from the two American men-of-war Preble and Savannah, belonging to the West India squadron of that station.

The Saratoga, being by far the largest and strongest of the three vessels which had assailed the boats of the memorialist, and being besides the flag-ship of Commander Turner, the chief of the expedition, then captured the Miramon and the Marqués de la Habana, made the officers, men, engineers, firemen, and passengers prisoners, and had them transported on board of the Saratoga, where they were treated with great rudeness and indignity. Sentinels were placed over them, continuously keeping them in sight. The memorialist himself was prevented from communicating with the other prisoners, except his own sons, two youths named Julio and Puncho, one of fourteen and the other of sixteen years of age, who were not in service, but whom the memorialist had taken to the coast of Mexico in order to send them to the city of Jalapa, in the State of Vera Cruz, where their mother and the rest of the family was, that city being then, indeed, the real domicil of the memorialist.

On the 13th of the same month, all these prisoners were transported to the American sloop-of-war Preble, which set sail on the 14th for New Orleans, where she arrived on the 26th of the same month of March. On board the Preble the prisoners received the same insulting treatment and want of care as on the Saratoga.

At New Orleans the prisoners were landed near the ferry of the Second Municipality of said city, were placed between files of soldiers, and were marched, between 11 and 12 o'clock of the forenoon, through the most populous part of New Orleans, to the distant common jail, in St. Ann street. On their way they were followed by a mob, who cursed them and shouted, "There go the pirates! Hang them! hang them!" In that jail they were confined in common with prisoners of every degree of criminality. A citizen of New Orleans, previously unknown to the memorialist, José Salusto Cucullu, volunteered to bail him out, and his security being accepted by the court for $3,000, the memorialist and his children were released from imprisonment on the 28th of March, or thereabouts. The Miramon and Marqués de la Habana were then libeled in the district court of the United States, with a view to their forfeiture; but the said court rendered on the 11th of June, 1860, a decree declaring the seizure illegal, and ordering the release of these vessels.

Before the decision of the district court, the Foreign Secretary of that Mexican Government, which the memorialist served, had forcibly brought to the knowledge of the representatives of foreign nations the outrageous conduct of Commander Turner's expedition towards the memorialist and the flag he represented, by a publication dated March 29, 1860, which is to be found on page 109 of a work entitled "Recapitulacion de Leyes y Decretos, Bandos, &c., de los Supremos Poderes," por Luis G. Saldivar, printed at Mexico, in 1866, and by a communication which the same Minister of Relations addressed on the same day, 29th March, 1860, to the Secretary of State of the United States of America, to be found on p. 110 of the above-named publication.

The district attorney of the United States at New Orleans having appealed from a decision of the District Court of the 11th of June, 1860, the subject was referred for a report thereon by James Buchanan, then the President of the United States, to the Hon. J. S. Black, then the Attorney General of the United States. That officer examined into the facts of the case and made a report, emphatically declaring that the seizure of the Miramon and the Marqués de la Habana was altogether unjustifiable. This report is printed on page 456 of the 9th vol. of the Opinions of the Attorney Generals of the United States. Your memorialist refers to these official publications for a fuller statement of the circumstances attending the seizure of the vessel, and for proof of the illegality of the conduct of the naval commander.

The business of the memorialist is, however, only to seek redress for the injuries he has received in his person. It must be left to the argument, by which this memorial will be followed, to explain to the Honorable Commission what the evidence shows that the former position both social and professional, of the memorialist was, and to what treatment he was thereby entitled.

But the memorialist avers that his capture and imprisonment in 1860 has thrown him out of active employment, has thrown a slur and stain upon his reputation, which warrants a claim for signal reparation, exposed his own health, and, as he verily believes, that it produced such a shock upon his wife, the mother of his children, that when she heard the rumors given out by his captors that he was a pirate and would be hung with his sons, she sickened, and soon afterwards died.

And your memorialist further shows and avers that the audacious, unwarranted, and brutal treatment which he individually experienced from the said squadron of the American navy, and which degraded him in the eyes of the civilized world and marred his prospects in life, as well as those of his sons who were imprisoned with him, fully entitles him to a compensation from the American Government, in whose name and by whose duly qualified officers these outrages were committed—to claim a compensation of three hundred thousand dollars, which sum is but an inadequate equivalent for the sufferings and privations to which the memorialist has been subjected by and in consequence of said acts of violence of the American squadron, under the orders of Commander Turner, as aforesaid.

Wherefore this memorialist prays this Hon. Commission to grant to him an award against the Government of the United States of America for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, with six per cent. interest from the 6th of March, 1860, the date of his unwarrantable imprisonment by the American forces, as aforesaid.

Ans - June 12 ^{New York} ~~the 12th~~ - The Delegates shaken to see Spanish Minister who has promised to arra the Spanish Court at New-York about this case

To the Honorable Hamilton Fish,
Secretary of State.

The memorial of Inocencio Caranova, a citizen of the United States, residing at Mosslawn, State of New-York, respectfully represents:-

That it is the too frequent and painful duty of your memorialist to have to apply to the Government of the United States for protection against the systematic outrages and persecution of the Spanish authorities.

As your memorialist is owner of a large amount of property in Cuba, and he thought it proper to execute together with his son Pedro Caranova, also an American citizen, an indenture to cancel a certain lease previously made in that island, he applied to a Notary public duly appointed and authorized, and made up the deed. But it is necessary to send the instrument to Cuba to be recorded at Havana, and as for such a purpose the authentication of the Spanish Consul for New-York is required, your memorialist sent the instrument to him. The Consul knows perfectly well the Notary public who made up the deed, and also his signature and seal, but refused to authenticate the instrument on the ground that it was objectionable and contained offensive expressions against his Government.

Your memorialist wrote to the Spanish Minister at Washington, and asked him whether it was, or was not, the duty of the Consul to authenticate the signature, or whether this requisite could be omitted without affecting in Cuba the legal results of the deed. But the aforesaid gentleman refused to answer and replied to a very respectable person, who delivered him the letter: "Say that I shall not answer it. I have no answer to make."

Consequently your memorialist has no other recourse than to throw himself on the protection of his Government. He will not enter into any disquisition as to whether the document is or is not offensive to the Spanish Government, notwithstanding that your memorialist could easily refute such an assertion. But be it what it may, the fact, the evident fact, is that the duty of a Consul, in cases like this, merely consists in attesting the signature and seal of the public officer who acknowl-ledges the instrument. The contents of this are completely beyond his province, and he has no right even to make himself acquainted with such contents. Should a foreign Consul be entitled to refuse his authentication to a document, duly made up in this country, according to the laws of the State and of the United States, on the ground that it contains or involves an offense to his nation, - it would be the same as to invest such a foreign representative with the power of controlling all the business transactions of the American citizens abroad. The Spanish law requiring, as it seems, for the validity of the instruments drawn up in foreign countries, the authentication of the Spanish Consuls, - that authentication cannot rightfully be refused unless the authenticity of the signature is reasonably doubted.

Your memorialist thinks that the refusal of the Spanish Consul at New-York is a violation of law, both natural, and international; - and as it is prejudicial to the extreme to his interests, he comes before you and respectfully requests the following:—

1st. That you may be pleased to cause the authentication of the aforesaid deed to be made according to the laws for such a case provided, in such a manner as to secure the legal results of the instrument in the island of Cuba, notwithstanding the groundless refusal of the Spanish Consul.

2nd. That the protest filed with this memorial, and all the other papers accompanying the same, may be taken at due time into due consideration.

3^d. That the same papers, together with the list accompanied herewith, may be filed in your Department, and put together with the other papers belonging to the claim of your memorialist against Spain.

And so, he will ever pray Ds.

- El Consul General en Comision

United States of America

State of New York

City and County of New York do:

Be it known that on this day of May 24th 1874 before me the undersigned Notary Public of the State of New York duly commissioned and sworn personally came Pedro C. Casanova and Francisco Casanova to me known who severally declared as follows:

That on or about the 25th day of April 1874 they executed before Antonio C. Gonzalez a Notary Public of the State of New York duly commissioned and sworn a certain instrument to which the said Notary affixed his signature and official seal.

That such instrument was designed for use at Havana in the Island of Cuba, and in order to give the same any force or effect at said place, it is and was necessary that such seal and signature of said Notary Public be legalized by the Consul of Spain at New York. That in consequence they carry the said instrument to the Consul of Spain at New York and requested him to legalize such seal and signature, but that said Consul refused so to do although such seal and signature were well known to and were admitted by him to be genuine, and although the fact was equally well known to him that said Antonio C. Gonzalez was as he represented himself a Notary Public for the City and County of New York duly commissioned and sworn, the said Consul having on many occasions legalized the signature and official seal of said Notary.

That the cause or reason assigned by said Consul for his refusal to legalize such seal and signature, was that the instrument to which they were affixed was couched in objectionable terms and contained expressions offensive to the Government which said Consul represented, all of which will more fully appear from the Certificate or statement of said Notary Antonio C. Gonzalez hereto annexed.

That the Consul aforesaid retained the instrument referred to, in his possession for twenty four hours and had a copy thereof made, which he still retains against the will and desire of these Defendants; that such copy was taken for the purpose as declared by said Consul of sending the same to the Spanish Minister at Washington in order to obtain his instructions as to whether the seal and signature of the Notary to the instrument should be legalized or not, and that such Consul still refuses to legalize the same. That by reason of the said Consul conduct in the premises and his refusal as aforesaid these Defendants have been unable to forward the aforesaid instrument to Havana and have suffered great injury and are likely to suffer greater injury if such Consul is permitted to persist in his said unjust and improper refusal.

And these Defendants protest against such acts of said Consul and against his refusal to legalize the seal and signature of said Notary, reserving all their rights in the premises as against the said Consul or against whom it may concern for all loss injury or damage that may result to them by reason of such refusal as aforesaid.

In testimony whereof the said parties have signed these presents with me the Notary who have hereto affixed my official seal.

Be it known that on or about the 25th day of April A. D. 1851, I, the undersigned a Notary Public of the State of New York in and for the City and County of New York duly commissioned and sworn, did request the Consul of Spain at the City of New York to legalise my signature and official seal affixed to a certain instrument executed before me on the above mentioned day by Pedro C. Casanova and Juan C. Casanova; that for the purpose of having such signature and seal legalised, said instrument was left at such Consul's office for the term of twenty four hours according and in obedience to the rules and regulations of said office; that after the lapse of twenty four hours said instrument was called for, whereupon the said Consul stated that he would not legalise my seal and signature affixed thereto, although he knew the same to be genuine and knew as he stated to me that I was as I then styled myself a Notary Public because and by reason of the fact that the instrument to which such seal and signature were affixed was couched in terms offensive to the Spanish Government, which said Consul represented, and said Consul thereupon stated that he had procured to be made a copy of said instrument which he had transmitted to the Spanish Minister at Washington setting his instructions as to whether he should legalize the seal and signature thereto affixed or not, and that he proposed to await the answer of said Minister to such communication and abide by his decision in the premises.

That on the second day of May 1871 I returned to the said Consul and again requested him to legalize the signature and seal aforesaid but he again declined so to do alleging that he had not yet received any instructions from the Minister.

New-York May 4th, 1871.

Mr. Spanish Minister.

Sir: on the 25th. ultimo, we deemed it proper to make up a deed before a notary public for this city and county, whose is well known to the Spanish Consul for the same city, and whose signature affixed to many documents of any kind has been very often authenticated by said Consul. Our deed required such an authentication because it was designed for use at the island of Cuba; and so, before applying to the State Department of our nation, we address you begging you to tell us whether the Spanish Consul for New-York is or is not bound to authenticate the signature of a notary public known to him, - or whether the instrument can or cannot be used in Cuba.

without his consular authentication.

If, - as we do expect, - you are so good as to give us an answer, you may address your note to Grinnon Casanova, and C° in this city. —

We avail of this opportunity to offer you our consideration as obedient servants. —

United States and Mexican CLAIMS COMMISSION,

No. 1412 H Street,

Copy sent to Willard at WASHINGTON, D. C. May 13, 1871.

Guaymas - 15 May 1871. with the six inclosures.
Dear Hamilton Fish.

Secretary of State.

Sir:

As I have before advised the Department there are pending before this Commission some six claims by Mexican citizens, residing in Lower California, for damages on account of alleged taking and destruction of property by William Walker and his ~~co~~expediti~~n~~ists who invaded that territory in 1853.

The aggregate damages claimed for these injuries amount to $5,544.110.- Of course the claims are grossly and fraudulently exaggerated.

It seems to me however, that it would be prudent for the Government to make the effort to obtain testimony tending to discredit the claims in whole or in part.

With this view I would respectfully suggest that directions be given to the ambit Consul or Consular Agent of the United States to obtain such depositions as are procurable touching such facts as may be deemed relevant to the defense of the United States. That defense on the point of claimants would be either that the several claimants did not possess the amount of property alleged, or that the valued are not correctly estimated. If it can be shown also that the claimants are not known as reidents of the localities specified in the memorials at the time in question, that evidence would be important to discredit the claims.

The locus in quo, in each case, seems to be a district, as far as I can ascertain.

in the upper part of Lower California, near the national boundary. I discover from the official list of Consuls that we have a consul at La Paz, which is near the extremity of the territory, whether we have a nearer consul at the scene of Walker's operations, I do not know.

I transmit herewith a copy of the memorial in each case, in order that the officer requested to obtain the information which I have indicated, if you deem it proper to adopt my suggestion, may be advised of the facts. On the back of each memorial are indorsed the names of the witnesses examined in each case.

I have the honor to be,
Very Respectfully
Your obt sv't

arrangement had been entered into between them by which Wood was to take charge of the Schooner so as to allow Capt' Heath, who was sick, to go home in the Hercules; and that both parties have made affidavit to the truth of this statement.

As there seems to be some misapprehension in the matter, a copy of these affidavits is enclosed. And the Collector has been directed to suspend the exactation of the 3 months extra wages until further advised by the Department.

On this day personally appeared before me, Thomas D. Wood, who being duly sworn deposes and says, that he was second mate on board the steamship Hercules, and that while in Havana on the 31st of March 1871, he made arrangements with Cap^t Doughty, of the "Hercules," and Cap^t Heather of the Schooner "Marion Gage," to return from Havana, in the schooner, in order that Cap^t Heather, who was sick, could go home on the Hercules. He had been second mate on the schooner, sometime previously and this was the reason that he was requested to come home on the schooner in place of on the Hercules. He says he was not surreptitiously discharged by Cap^t Doughty, and he claims nothing from him, in way of compensation.

Department of State,

FIRST CONSULAR BUREAU,

Washington, May 24th, 1871.Subject

The discharge of Thos. D. Wood, 2^d mate of the s.s. "Hercules" at Havana.

The Consul General at Havana in despatch No. 427, of April 11, 1871, encloses a copy of the sworn statement of Thos. D. Wood, which sets forth that on March 31, 1871, he was paid for his services as 2^d mate of the "Hercules" and discharged at Havana by the Master, Frank Doughty, upon a mutual agreement between Capt. Doughty and Capt. Thos. E. Heatter of the schooner "Marian Sage" that he was to take a position as 2^d mate on board said schooner; and that having never before been discharged in a foreign port, he supposed his to be a legal discharge.

On April 26, 1871, a copy of this despatch and enclosure was sent to

To the Secretary of the Treasury for such proceedings as he thought necessary.

On the 2^d of May met, the Secretary of the Treasury replies that proper instruction have been given in the case.

The annexed letter, dated May 22^d 1871, from the Secretary of the Treasury, encloses the sworn statement of Mr. Wood taken before the Deputy Collector at Philadelphia, which represents that he made arrangements with Capt. Doughty and Capt. Heather to return from Havana in the "Marion Sage" in order that Capt. Heather, who was sick, might go home on the "Hercules." He says he was not subsequently discharged by Capt. Doughty and claims nothing from him for wages.

The letter then states that the Collector at Philadelphia has been directed to suspend the exaction of 3 months extra wages until further orders.

Respectfully submitted.

H. W. Land Esq.
Dear Sir,

Your past kindness prompts me once more to seek information as to the late Mr. S. found a Samanea. Having gone to a very great expense & trouble to create him my agent & given him power to collect money in my name I should like any clue as to his whereabouts. The last I heard from him he said that the consulship had been transferred to another on account of his sympathizing with the Cubans; that he intended visiting the U. States, to return however to Kingston in a short time; that while in the U. S. his address would be ^(care) Henry de Cordova & Co. New York City. He had quite a considerable amount of money which he had collected from the Bowens Hall Estate for me & of which I have very great need having been to support and no money to do it with. The amount I think ought to be about one thousand dollars, more or less. This last news from him was received about eighteen or months ago, since which time I have been unable to find out or hear any thing of him. I wrote to Mr. Fordora & he said the A. A. Gregg Esq., the Consul, had advised them to send his letter to Oberlin Ohio. I wrote to the Post Master of that town inquiring after Mr. Gregg, at the same time enclosing stamp for the reply, but have never received a word in answer to my letter. It is of the greatest importance to me that I find him, for I have every reason in the world, for thinking that he has swindled me completely. The slightest information you can give me as to where he is or where I should be likely to find him, would be greatly gratefully received as I am in very great need of the money. Hoping you will excuse my thus troubling you again & that you will receive my grateful thanks for all past kindness I am

Yours truly,

Dear Sir

I observe that the American and Spanish Claims Commission has been duly organized in accordance with the provisions of convention for the settlement of claims of citizens of Spain and the United States.

I am one of the owners and agent of the other owners of the unfortunate Bark-Georgiana of Liverpool seized and condemned in May 1850 by the Spanish authorities for an alleged participation in the Cuban affair of that year.

I desire to know of you what course to pursue relative to the matter now whether to furnish the necessary papers to be presented to the commission through your office or present the claim to the commission myself or through an attorney.

I refer you for information relating to the case to H. Doc No 83 House of Representatives 32^o Congr. 1st session.

The Bark Georgiana was unlawfully seized and condemned by the Spanish authorities.

Such was the opinion of Mr Clayton then Secretary of State such was also the opinion of Mr Webster who when Secretary of State wrote me that "Spain Should pay ^{that} claim as an act of sheer justice" The Spanish Government also has acknowledged the justness of our claim and in 1860 concluded a Treaty with our Minister then resident at Madrid agreeing to institute a joint Commission for the adjustments of all claims while Treaty recognised the justness of our claim by providing that $100,000. of the $128,000 of the Cuban Claim Should be paid within three months of the Ratification of the Treaty the remaining $28,000. was to await the decision of the Commission for or against the Amistad Claim but in any event the balance was to be paid the claimants either by Spain or the United States which Treaty was rejected by the U. S. Senate

We have heretofore not given your depl.
attention much trouble in regard to our claim trusting we Should have ample justice done us.

But as the claim is to be now finally adjudicated upon by the Commission we desire the Commission to fully understand the merits of the case and trust that you will aid us in the matter
