

CUBAN INDEPENDENCE.

THE COOPER INSTITUTE MEETING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Cooper Institute was crowded tonight by the friends of Cuba to celebrate the first anniversary of Cuban independence. Señor Llenus, the Cuban minister to Washington, presided. Congratulatory despatches were read from prominent persons in various parts of the country. Speeches were made by members of the Junta and others, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

CELEBRATION IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—The first anniversary of the Cuban revolution was celebrated here to-day by a procession and an oration at the Masonic Temple.

CELEBRATION IN PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The Cuban Junta headquarters are decorated with flags in honor of the first anniversary of the Cuban revolution.

Evening.—The friends of Cuba today held a large and very enthusiastic meeting to celebrate the first anniversary of Cuban independence.