PHILADELPHIA, October 11.—The rain has not caused another freshet in the Schuylkill, as was feared.

Yesterday, boats, that had accumulated in the Schuylkill below the dam, were towed around to the Delaware, for fear they might be carried by the flood against the Market street bridge.

The Cuban Junta's headquarters, in Arch street, are decorated with flags, in honor of the anniversary of the commencement of the Cuban revolution.

The flags of the public buildings are at half-mast, in respect to the memory of ex-President Pierce.
