

LATEST NEWS FROM CUBA.—We publish elsewhere a special dispatch from Havana, via Key West, which informs us that the Cubans have made a successful landing of arms and ammunition in the Bay of Nipe. The war material had been conveyed to the coast by the Cuban privateer Teaser, and is now doing good service in the hands of the patriots in the interior. We are also informed of two brilliant encounters at Magete and San José, between the Cubans and the Spaniards, in which the former displayed great courage and daring during both fights. It is plain to be seen that if the Cubans had the arms and the ammunition they so much desire they would make the campaign against the enemy what it should be—short, sharp and decisive.
