

MARYLAND.

Condemnation in the United States Court of the Steamship Cuba.

BALTIMORE, June 23, 1869.

In the United States District Court this morning Judge Giles delivered an oral opinion in the case of the United States vs. the steamship Cuba, libelled on information of having brought on the voyage from Havana 45,000 cigars not placed on the manifest. After reviewing the testimony adduced and the facts presented in the case Judge Giles decided that the steamer, under the acts of Congress relating to commerce with foreign countries, was clearly liable to forfeiture, and that he would sign a decree of condemnation and forfeiture. The counsel for the owners gave notice of appeal.
