

THE CUBAN ENVOY DISCOURAGED.

---

WASHINGTON, July 13, 1869.

No Effort Being Made to Secure Recognition of Cuban Independence.

It is not the intention of the Cuban envoy now here to make any effort at present to obtain recognition from our government. Mr. Lemus proposes to remain quiet and await the turn of affairs in Cuba. He does not expect anything decisive to take place until fall, and as he has no hope of making any impression on Mr. Fish, he will not bother him.
