

A supposed Cuban filibustering expedition left New Bedford, Mass., on Monday night, but the steamer Helen Augusta, with a Collector and posse on board, pursued and overtook the schooner on which the expedition sailed and brought her back. The captain of the schooner says he was engaged to go on a fishing excursion.