

THE CUBAN MASS MEETING.—Whether the stories from Washington concerning the action of the government with regard to Cuba and the Sickles letter and so forth be strictly true or not, the projected mass meeting in behalf of Cuba in this city should be hurried up. Indeed, the rumors in regard to the probable course of the administration ought to stimulate the parties who propose this meeting to hasten their arrangements, so that the voice of the people may be heard upon the Cuban question just at this critical period.
