Trial of the Cuban Filibusters at Macon.
MACON, Sept. 7, 1869.

The examination of the Cuban recruiting agents commenced to-day before United States Commissioner Morrel. United States Attorney Melledge is the counsel for the prosecution and ex-United States Attorney Fitch for the defence. Great interest is felt in the result, particularly by the parents of the younger recruits. The court adjourned until to-morrow out of respect to the late Secretary of War.
