

The Spaniards in Cuba are violating all laws, not only of civilized warfare, but of humanity, in a shocking manner. They have not only shot the captured Cuban Gen. Lopez, but, as one of the Spanish organs in Havana states, in the neighborhood of Gibara they have dispatched some of the captives with knives. They are setting a frightful precedent, and they will have to blame themselves if some day they have to pay dearly for these horrid outrages.

---