

The Spanish accounts from Cuba this morning claim a number of successes. The Spanish troops are said to have been victorious in an engagement at Cifuentes. At Villa Clara 300 rebels are reported to have surrendered, and the Spanish General Lesca claims to have outwitted Gen. Quesada. The Cuban General Napoleon Arango is said to have gone over to the Spaniards with 2,000 men. We very much doubt that future advices will confirm one-half of these stories.
