The grand benefit entertainment, under the auspices of the Cuban Junta, is announced for the 20th inst., at the Academy of Music. The programme includes a French Vaudeville by the surviving artists of the French Theater, a Cuban play, a ballet, and a concert, to which Harry Bauerer, Josefina Filomeno, Madame La Tuer, Mlle. St. Leon and others have promised their assistance. The Marseillaise is to be sung with a grand military tableau, chorus, 340 Cuban patriots in uniform, and Madame La Tuer as the Goddess of Liberty, so that any superfluous enthusiasm which the friends of Cuba may have left on hand after buying liberally of tickets will have abundant opportunity to escape.
