

The second of ten gunboats built for the Spanish Government by Messrs. Poulton, at their shipyard, foot of Bridge-st., was launched at 3.30 on Saturday, in presence of a large crowd of spectators. Each boat will carry a 100-pound Parrott gun, will be propelled by four surface condensing engines of 12 horse power, and are expected to run 12 miles an hour. They are to be dispatched for Cuba as fast as they are finished.
