

enemy on the road they would go over to him. They created so much disturbance that all were glad when they were gone. They promised to be back soon to help take Cienfuegos from the Spaniards.

---