My Dear Mary:

Thank you..., thank you very much for your beautiful thought and act.

Oh..., yes, I'm well, and expect to be out the first week of May. I have lost a few pounds..., but I needed that.

I know that sometimes it is difficult to understand other peoples actions and motivations. The simplest way that I can put it, is that: we cubans, have an obligation toward our enslaved brothers. And that we are motivated by a sense of duty and honor. Duty to try and obtain the freedom of our homeland, so we may be able to secure and preserve our traditions and our christian civilization and culture, for our generations to come. And honor that is translated by our motivations inspired by our firm believes in the absolute integrity of the family within a free, firm state and society.

Mary, we firmly believe in these and other things that make us do what we believe to be our obligation, because we know that we are right.

But..., on the meantime..., we must sell some cars. - Right?!

Once more, thank you for remembering me.

I'm rejoiced to know you, because..., you are a beautiful person. My best wishes for your good health and happiness.

I'll see you soon,

your friend,

 (Bill)
