

DEATH OF A PRISONER CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE.—Scipio Fraser, one of the freedmen convicted at the last term of the Court of General Sessions, of the murder of young BRANTFORD, but whose case was under appeal, died at the jail Tuesday night, of consumption, and was buried yesterday.