State vs Salon and Llerena
Criminal Court Case No. 69-10190

Dear Dick:

This is to advise you that we have been retained by Continental National American Group to prosecute a subrogation action against the above-named criminal defendants, arising out of their bombing of two trailers which belonged to our insureds, Overseas Transportation Company, Inc., and South Florida Freightways, E. R. Siddall, d/b/a Siddall Rental, which bombing occurred on or about November 30, 1969.

The Assistant State Attorney who is responsible for the prosecution of these cases will naturally be calling upon the appropriate representatives of our insureds for testimony at the time of the trial. And, needless to say, we will be more than glad to cooperate in that regard.

In addition, of course, our adjusters have made some substantial investigation into these matters, and we would be glad to supply you with whatever information we have in our file.

Honorable Richard E. Gerstein
State Attorney

Finally, inasmuch as we have a financial interest in these defendants, to the extent of $2,302.34, we would like to be notified of all hearing dates in these matters, in order that we may have a representative present.

We are notifying the Office of the Clerk of the Criminal Court of Record of our interest in these cases, and would appreciate it if you and the Clerk's Office would keep us promptly advised of all proceedings.

Your cooperation in this regard is greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

AND FOR DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA

CASE NO. 69-10190

THE STATE OF FLORIDA,

Plaintiff,

vs.

WILLIAM SALON and
THOMAS R. LLERENA,

Defendants.

MOTION TO DISMISS ON THE GROUNDS OF A
DEFECTIVE INFORMATION

The Defendant, THOMAS R. LLERENA, by and through his undersigned attorneys, hereby attacks the validity of the information and moves this Honorable Court to dismiss the information filed in this cause for the following reasons:

1. That the information consisting of two (2) counts was executed by Richard E. Gerstein, State Attorney of the 11th Judicial Circuit of Florida.
2. That said information fails to conform to the requirements set forth in Rule 1.140, Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure, and more particularly Rule 1.140(c)(2), Rule 1.140(g).
3. That the information was not personally sworn to in the presence of a Deputy Clerk before its filing as alleged in said information and as required by the Florida Constitution and Florida Statutes, Section 117.09.
4. That the testimony which led to the filing of the information was not actually heard by the Prosecuting Attorney himself, rather by an Assistant State Attorney who forwarded it to a "Chief of Division" prior to the time that the Prosecuting Attorney signed it, which action is violative of the Florida Constitution and CrPR Rule 1.140(g).

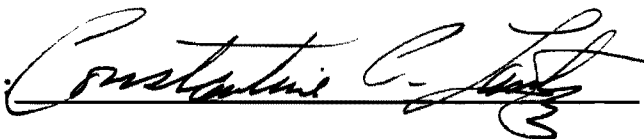

5. That in this case the oath could not be given by the Deputy Clerk by reason that she is not authorized to administer oaths, and further that said oath is invalid by reason that said Deputy Clerk employed by the State Attorney's Office.

WHEREFORE, the Defendant, THOMAS R. LLERENA, moves that this Honorable Court will enter its Order dismissing the information in this cause.

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I HEREBY CERTIFY that a true copy of the foregoing Motion to Dismiss was delivered personally by hand to Bruce Phelps, Assistant State Attorney, at 1351 N.W. 12th Street, Metropolitan Justice Bldg., Miami, Florida this 26th day of February, 1970.

CASE NO. 10190

THE STATE OF FLORIDA,

vs.

MEMORANDUM OF DEFENDANT'S
MOTION TO DISMISS DEFECTIVE
INFORMATION

LAW OFFICES OF
CONSTANTINE P. LANTZ
Attorney for Def. Thomas R. Llerena

Miami, Florida 33130

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

It is the contention of the Petitioner that unless by indictment, no one other than the duly elected State Attorney for the 11th Judicial Circuit in and for Dade County, Florida has the authority to sign and give oath to an information to deprive a man of his liberty, and that such authority, to arrest by information, is a franchise of the electorate as a repository of trust that cannot be delegated to another. This is set forth in the Constitution of the State of Florida, the statutes of the State of Florida, the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure as promulgated by the Supreme Court of this State, and the decisions of the said Supreme Court and Appellate Court subdivisions construing the above referred to constitution, statutes and rules.

Florida Constitution, 1968 Revision, Art.1, Sect. 15(a), "No person shall be tried for a capital crime without presentment or indictment by a grand jury, or for other Felony without such presentment or indictment or an information under oath filed by the prosecuting officer of the Court, except persons on active duty in the militia when tried by courts martial."

Florida Constitution, 1968 Revision, Art. 5,
Sect. 9(5) Criminal Courts of Record -

"All offenses triable in said court shall be prosecuted upon information under oath, to be filed by the prosecuting attorney, but the grand jury of the circuit court for the county in which said criminal court is held may indict for offenses triable in the criminal court. Upon the finding of such indictment the circuit judge shall commit or bail the accused for trial in the criminal court, which trial shall be upon information."

The case law prior to the above cited constitutional revisions in 1968, firmly established that persons to be tried on information, that said information, had to be filed by the prosecuting officer of the Court. Thus in Segars v. State 115 So.534 (1927), wherein a statute was held void in that it authorized assistant county solicitors to sign, swear to, and file information in Criminal Courts of Record when Constitution 1885, Article 5, Sect. 28 reads in part "All offenses triable in said Court shall be prosecuted upon information under oath, to be filed by the prosecuting attorney,"etc. The Court made itself much clearer when it stated on page 539 Segars v. State supra: ✓

"If public officers could assign or delegate to others the grave duties requiring judgment and discretion, which they were personally appointed or elected to perform there would be an early end to responsible representative government. There are certain things in life as well as on the field of battle as to which the government accepts no substitution." The Court further quoted Engle v. Chipman, 51 Mich. 524, 61 N.W. 886:

"No doubt a prosecuting attorney may employ assistants in various ways not involving his official discretion or responsibility, and this is all that defendant admits he ever did. But the law has very carefully guarded the criminal interests of the state from any interested or unauthorized intermeddling. The prosecuting attorney is a very responsible officer, selected by the people and vested with personal discretion intrusted to him as a minister of justice, and not as a mere legal attorney. He is disqualified from becoming in any way entangled with private interests or grievances in any way connected with charges of crime. He is expected to be impartial in abstaining from prosecuting as well as in prosecuting, and to guard the real interests of public justice in favor of all concerned. This discretion is official and personal, and our laws have only allowed its delegation on special grounds, where an assistant has been provided for by carefully guarded legislation. It is directly contrary to public policy to allow any general delegation of a prosecutor's powers, and the courts cannot recognize any such arrangement as forming a basis for personal compensation."

In further developing the Petitioners contention the Supreme Court of Florida in State ex. rel. Ricks v. Davidson, Sheriff, 163 So. 588, (1937). In that case it was held that information charging felonies, one signed by assistant state attorney and other held in state attorney's name by assistant, held void, entitling prisoner to discharge, since State Attorney alone was authorized to file such informations. Section 10 of the Declaration of Rights, as amended at the General Election held November 6, 1934; Florida Constitution 1885, provides, in so far as the same is necessary to be considered here, as follows:

"No person shall be tried for a capital crime unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury, and no person shall be tried for other felony unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury or upon information under oath filed by the prosecuting attorney of the court wherein the information is filed, except as is otherwise provided in this Constitution."

The Supreme Court goes on to state that the law applicable to the present case of Ricks v. Davidson "has been enunciated by this Court in the case of Segars v. State, 115 So. 537 (1927) (supra) and goes on to state: 'When Section 10 of the Bill of Rights was amended so as to curtail the necessity for grand jury action and to substitute in many cases information charging felonies in lieu of indictments as theretofore required, it was definitely provided that "no person shall be tried for other felony unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury or upon information under oath filed by the prosecuting attorney of the court wherein the information is filed, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution." Now, the constitutional prosecuting attorney of the Circuit Court is the State Attorney and as the Constitution required that information filed in that Court shall be "under oath filed by the Prosecuting Attorney," the state's attorney, the officer whose appointment is provided for in the Constitution, is the only officer authorized to make oath to and file such informations. This conclusion is based upon the opinion and authorities cited in Segars v. State, supra.'

The Court further stated 'the filing of an information is the lodging in a court of a solemn and formal complaint charging a citizen with a violation of the criminal statutes and now informations may be used to charge the most heinous offenses not punishable by death.

Therefore, it is a wise and salutary provision of the Constitution which limits the exercise of that power to those officers who are specifically provided for by the provisions of the Constitution. It is a function in the performance of which careful consideration, wise conclusions, and cautious action should be exercised, and by an officer recognized by the Constitution."

In State of Florida v. Hernandez, 217 So. 2nd 109, (1968), on page 110 the Court states:

"F.S.A. Sect. 904.01 (1965), plainly authorizes the institution of the instant prosecution by direct information for it expressly provides:

"All capital offenses shall be tried on indictment by a grand jury, and all other cases may be tried either by indictment by grand jury or information filed by the prosecuting attorney under oath See also similar provision in Fla. Const. Dec. of Rights, Sect. 10, F.S.A."

In Lawson v. State of Florida, 215 So. 2nd 790 (Fla. 2nd Dist., 1968) Court here grouped Defendant's motion to vacate into six categories. Category No. 5 - Prosecution upon direct information instead of grand jury indictment. The offenses of robbery, with which defendant was charged, is a non-capital crime. Therefore, under the organic law of the state, the trial of robbery may be pursuant to the filing of a criminal information by the appropriate prosecuting official or by indictment returned by a grand jury. Sect. 10 Declaration of Rights and Article V, Sect. 9, Constitution of Florida F.S.A. See also Henderson v. State, 174 So. 2nd 73 (Fla. 3d District, 1965); Sawyer v. State, 113 So. 736 (1927); Davis v. State, 166 So. 2nd 189 (Fla. 1st District 1964).

Widener v. Croft, 184 So. 2nd 444, (Fla. 4th Dist., 1966);

"Prior to the amendment to Sect. 10 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Florida, F.S.A. persons charged with a felony were tried on indictment by a grand jury. By amendment adopted in 1934, except for a capital crime, a person may be tried for other felonies upon information filed by the prosecuting attorney of the Court. Thus, in 1934 a prosecuting attorney of the Court became, in effect, a one-man grand jury.

State v. Hill, 208 So. 2nd 154, 155 (Fla. 3rd Dist., 1968)

states:

"It is clear that prosecution of a criminal offense not involving Capital Punishment may be by indictment or by information. The grand jury and the State Attorney have concurrent authority to file formal accusation, F.S.A. Const., Declaration of Rights, Sect. 10; Art. 5, Sect. 9(5); F.S.A. 32.18, 923.03(2)."

Notwithstanding that F.S.A. 27.181 and Florida Sessions Law Chapter 67-188, Senate Bill No. 486 are supposed to be one and the same, the Petitioner in this memorandum is citing from Chapter 67-188 particularly section (3).

"Each assistant state attorney appointed by a state attorney under the authorization of this act shall have all of the powers and discharge all of the duties of the state attorney appointing him, under the direction of said state attorney, except, however, that due to constitutional limitations, no such assistant may sign information. He shall sign indictments and other official documents, except informations, as assistant state attorney, and, when so signed, the same shall have the same force and effect as if signed by the state attorney.

The preamble in Chapter 67-188 states the intent of the act to-wit: "WHEREAS, authorizing state attorneys to appoint their own assistants is conducive to the efficient performance of the duties imposed upon the state attorney's office by law and to the best interests of the state of Florida:"

Section 6 of Chapter 67-188 states: "This act shall apply to the state attorneys and assistant state attorneys of the fourth, eleventh and thirteenth judicial circuits of Florida only to the extent that it is not inconsistent with the provisions of sections 9A, 9B and 9C of Article V of the Constitution of Florida, relating only to said circuits respectfully." Thus, we see that in 9B the State Attorney for Dade County was given the autonomy in the appointment, tenure and compensation for his assistants as far back as the added general elections of November 6, 1956.

The 1962 Op. Atty., Gen. D62-76 June 1, 1962 states:

"However, in the judicial circuit wherein the county of Dade liss, the state attorney, pursuant to Laws 1957, c. 57-735, may hire one of 23 assistants that are to be paid by the Board of County Commissioners to assist him for limited times and purposes, including the prosecution of criminals.

Your Petitioner further calls the Courts attention to the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure, Rule 1.140(a)(2). The prosecution of all other criminal offenses shall be as follows:

"In Criminal Courts of Record and in the Court of Record of Escambia County, prosecution shall be solely by information; in County Judge's Courts having elective prosecuting attorneys, by indictment, information or affidavit; in all courts not hereinabove mentioned which have elective prosecuting attorneys, by indictment or information:"

CrPR Rule 1.140(c)(2) "-Informations shall state that appropriate prosecuting attorney makes the charge.-"

CrPR Rule 1.140(g) "-An information shall be signed by the legally authorized prosecuting attorney under oath stating his good faith in instituting the prosecution. No objection to an information on the ground that it was not signed or verified, as herein provided, shall be entertained after the defendant pleads to the merits.-"

CrPR Committee Note Rule 1.140(a)(2)

"The additional method of prosecution by information is provided as a step toward attaining uniformity with other courts in the prosecution of non-capital offenses, at least to the extent that a prosecutor desires to use an information. This addition involved a consideration of whether a non-elected, prosecutor serving in a county judge's court-which often is the case-has the authority to use an information as an accusatorial writ. Since this question has not been definitely resolved under present law, caution dictated the specification that the prosecuting attorney be elected as a prerequisite to his use of an information."

"In Courts not having elective prosecutors, prosecutions by information is not recommended because of the aforementioned doubt as to the authority of a non-elected prosecutor to use an information as an accusatorial writ."

CrPR Committee Note Rule 1.140(g)

"Section 10, DR, Florida Constitution requires that information be under oath of the prosecuting attorney of the Court wherein the information is filed. Sect. 7(5), Art. V, Florida Constitution contains the same requirement concerning Florida informations filed by the prosecuting attorney in a Criminal Court of Record. This proposal also does not deviate from present Florida statutory law as found in Sect. 906.04 F.S. This statute has received judicial approval. (See Champlin v. State, 122 So. 2nd 419 (1960).) It should be noted here that the prosecutor's statement under oath is definitized as to the purpose served by the signature.
