

Palace Attack Trial Set Apr. 5, 2 Said Charged

The Urgency Court of Havana announced Monday that the trial of the March 13th attack on the Presidential Palace has been set for next April 5.

Only two persons are under arrest pending trial of that case. They are Orlando Olmedo Moreno, who was wounded during the assault, and Efrain Alfonso Liriano, who was picked up after the frustrated attack.

All the others connected with the attack were either killed or escaped. A group of 26 were known to have been killed while a Bureau of investigations report last week said at least 36 escaped.

The formal report which the Bureau of Investigations filed with Urgency Court last week charged that the "intellectual authors" of the frustrated attack were ex-president Carlos Prío and the leaders of the underground Popular Socialist Party (Communists).
