

pitch in and dig with all the energy of terrier at a gopher hole—for "wheat d

Let me make another application of the text, my brethren. Beware of an oil-tongued, sycophantic friend, who is ever ready to do a small favor who performs a willingness to serve you at all times who praises you as the fox did the crow for while he is thus "squeezing" himself into your good graces, he has an eye on your purse—yourself forgetting for the moment that "whar d's den scratches dar she spec to find a bug."

My friends, how uneasy is the immon-

How it seems to exult in its freedom while winging its way to your azure bed.

of light and glory, or wandering amid the green old bowers of the past, where none but itself are permitted to roam !
What, then, must be its light, when

and no longer dependent upon bread, bee liberty, such as mortals have never yet known, will be blissfully realized in the eternal sphere, where—where—"Wah den scratches, dar she spees to find bug." So mote it be!

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.
NEW YORK, MAY 11.

The great American Tract Society have had an all day sitting. The anti-slavery faction, however, were not present, having defeated, Rev. Dr. Patton upon the ball by proposing that the Executive Committee be instructed to prepare an issue during the year tracts calculated to arouse and concentrate the influence of the Christian community against slavery and faction. However, the meeting terminated with Mr. David Lee, in a discourse speech, opposed. And Mr. Wolcott offered resolutions of nearly the same pur-posed, and each and every series, as the same were offered, were laid upon the table. The resolutions were then taken, and the strength of the malcontents appeared in the small number of 23 against the 351 who supported the regular constitution. The resolutions were then taken, and the strength of the malcontents appeared in the small number of 23 against the 351 who supported the regular constitution. The resolutions were then taken, and the strength of the malcontents appeared in the small number of 23 against the 351 who supported the regular constitution.

of God. The conviction is expressed that for such a land, colportage is the

The Sunday School Union reports that the whole number of Sabbath Schools under its jurisdiction to be 212; number of pupils, 65,000; new schools established, 10; new scholars, 5,000; new converts, 1,000; connected with any particular church, 25,500; colored scholars, 1,200; converts in the schools in the year, 506; infant scholars, 10,500; money contributed by the scholars to missionary purposes, $1,000.

The Mercantile Library Association's receipts are reported for the year to have been $10,780 52; expenditures, $10,735 46. The Trustees of the Clinton Hall Association report an indebtedness of $87,000 for the present building; the of which $28,021.02 has been put toward the liquidation of the debt on the build-

The Ladies Fire Points Mission reported that their year's expenses have been $10,904.30; receipts, $7,087.51. The school children have been taught in the afternoon the average attendance being 248; adults and children sent to country houses; 483 pairs of shoes distributed; 12,147 pairs of shoes distributed; 792 hats; 200 provisions valued at $1,000.

The Congregational Union collected $10,615 last year, all of which has been spent in assisting 29 churches to complete and pay for their houses of worship.

Phil. Pennsylvania.

RICHMOND, Va., June 4.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth has official returns from 107 counties last year. Let us see what the totals are.

44 counties yet to be officially heard from. The counties officially report

There was a heavy frost on Saturday night, and the wheat crop throughout Northern Ohio was badly injured or destroyed. The corn, grapes, and potatoes were badly frosted.

The Governor, in pursuing a judicial course, took from the opponents of the Democracy all opportunity to interfere with its propriety, their cause could not be properly presented, and considerable and unjust costs were made against other Executives. He moreover enabled to prevail on the voters to defeat some legislation more reasonable and injurious than that enacted. Among the legislative reforms was a bill to amend the law in the Territory of Kansas, which would have been the destruction of the Kansas-Nebraska act. This legislation was designed by sectional men to render the excitement on the question of slavery which is fast dying out; as the people obtain a clearer understanding of the facts, they will turn to Gov. McPherson for his patriotic efforts to prevent the defeat of this scheme, and we owe to the Legislature further credit may be due them for refusing to gratify the organizers of this scheme against the peace of the Union and the honor of Kansas. We are glad that the Legislature did not agree to this scheme, and we are glad and can only be encouraged by the people to do so. First, this effort was made upon the Japheth's borders were to be enlarged, and it was decreed that he should return to dwell in the tents of Shem. The descendants of Japheth, to which race we belong, have settled all Europe, all America, and a large part of Asia. We have on more occasions than one dwelt in the tents of Shem, or held political dominion over that, in some respects, more highly favored race. It was further decreed that the descendants of Ham should be servants of servants, and serve both of the other races; all of which had been literally fulfilled, and is going on at the very time. To speak

We perceive by an examination of that letter, which doubtless was not written for publication, that Hill arranges the capture by the lawful owner, and the rescue by the Abolitionists at Oberlin of the negro slave, John Price; Hill says:

Prominent in this humane transaction were three Englishmen and a Scotchman; members of the same standing in the college, the other a married man with a family. These four British subjects, together with thirty-three other engineers in the navy, are now straggled by the Federal Government of the United States, under a charge of violating the Fugitive Slave Law, and are awaiting their trial.

This man Hill, then proceeds to denounce the United States Courts, and subt the people of Kansas will do. The reath resolution of the Ossawatimie platform reads as follows:

tion and laws of this Commonwealth; provided, that this amendment shall not affect the rights which any person of foreign birth possessed at the time of the adoption thereof; and provided further

g their attention to a "sacred pri-
" held by JEFFERSON, who, on a prable occasion said: "all, too, will in mind this sacred principle, that Loas $25,000; insurance small. Men and women are thrown out of cur-

1. The first part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them. The list includes names such as "John A. Smith", "John B. Smith", "John C. Smith", "John D. Smith", "John E. Smith", "John F. Smith", "John G. Smith", "John H. Smith", "John I. Smith", "John J. Smith", "John K. Smith", "John L. Smith", "John M. Smith", "John N. Smith", "John O. Smith", "John P. Smith", "John Q. Smith", "John R. Smith", "John S. Smith", "John T. Smith", "John U. Smith", "John V. Smith", "John W. Smith", "John X. Smith", "John Y. Smith", and "John Z. Smith".

