
PATENT WIND-POWER.
This is the only safe WIND-POWER that has ever been invented for heavy work; it is completely housed from all Gales or Storms, and so arranged that the wind can be shut off or let on at pleasure, thus regulating the motion of the wheel to the desired pitch, however strong the gale. It is also perfectly free from all back wind, consequently working with less wind than any other.

people, it has taken this preference, and will continue to do so as long as wind is used as a motive power. The wheel is always in a position to receive the wind from whatever direction it may blow. One is now working a pump on the premises of the Inventor (at Palestine, Cook Co., Illinois), it has a wheel eight feet in diameter, with three feet flaps; it raises water sufficient for the largest Stock Farm, and works in the lightest or heaviest winds, with

For the United States, Elgin, Kane Co., Ill.

I certify, that I have seen the above described Patent in full operation. I believe it is not only a good, durable and lasting machine, but a real benefit to the public.

D. H. JOHNSON

We have seen M. S. Johnson's PATENT
WIND-POWER attached to a Pump for raising water; it worked perfectly easy and good.

I consider it a thing in which money can be invested with safety.

S. S. TAYLOR.

I certify that I have seen Morgan S. Johnson's Patent WIND-POWER, raising water, it worked first rate, and is a very ingenious contrivance, yet simple, strong and permanent.

ISRAEL SMITH.

Palatine, Ill., Nov. 1, 1856.

WIND-POWER in operation pumping water from a well on his premises, it works well, and I think it a good plan for raising water or for any other purpose to which wind can be applied. This machine has a wheel eight feet in diameter, with flotes three feet long.

THOMAS S. CLARK.
Palatine, Ill., Oct., 29, 1856.

We have seen a new Patent WIND-POWER, invented by M. S. Johnson, at Rockford, Ill.
